Tanjore Indian Cuisine

Every now and then, a partnership results in something extraordinary. After 12 years of putting his heart and soul into perfecting recipes and mastering the craft of Indian cooking, Chef Yogi Dhwale and restauranteur Chris Corda joined forces to open Tanjore Indian Cuisine, bringing traditional Indian food to South Florida with a modern twist.

Located in Boca Raton, Tanjore is a sophisticated, contemporary dining destination that will delight you from the moment you walk in. One look around this modern, lush restaurant with crisp, white walls and seating and you'll know you're in for a unique experience. Accented with cobalt blue, everything about this place feels elevated.

Hungry? You've come to the right place. Start off with one of their delicious appetizers -- samosas or Roti pe Boti to name a few. Using fresh meats, fish and vegetables, Chef Yogi prepares authentic Indian dishes like Talli Lamb Vindaloo and Chicken Tikka Masala. Their impressive menu also offers a huge list of vegetarian dishes, with vegan options available.

Aside from being a wonderful dining spot, Tanjore also has a beautiful bar – perfect for date night, happy hour or meeting up with friends. Planning a party? You've found a great venue for your next event. The entire restaurant is available for private events, or their Lotus Room offers a private patio that can accommodate up to 100 guests. For an intimate crowd, the Peacock Lounge can accommodate up to 20 guests. And when the party's at your house, Tanjore offers full catering off their menu, or something customized to your needs.

Visit them at 500 Via de Palmas, Suite 79 in Boca Raton for lunch, dinner, or cocktails, or call them at (561) 288-5800. You can check out their full menu and book reservations at www.tanjoreusa.com.