About Me

As a "neurospicy" individual, I'm constantly adapting. This has suited me well in my adult life as a military spouse and devoted mother to my three boys. I thrive in carefully controlled chaos and love rising to new challenges, whether it's learning a new hobby or uprooting my entire life every few years. I truly enjoy being a wordsmith, and hope to utilize my gifts to bring more good into the world, even if just a little.
