

MEDIA ALERT

UNC Charlotte Chancellor to Celebrate Opening of New Student Laundry Service

- WHO: Sharon Gaber, Chancellor, UNC Charlotte
- WHAT: Chancellor Gaber will welcome College Clean Laundry into the UNC Charlotte community by performing the honor of cutting the green and gold ribbon. Gaber will address a crowd of guests from a stage set up in the front parking lot of the store. Sparkling green and gold decorations will dress the surrounding area and provide an atmosphere full of eager Niner pride.
- WHEN: Saturday, June 5, 12:30 p.m.
- WHERE: College Clean Laundry, 8600 University City Blvd., Charlotte, NC 28213

BACKGROUND: College Clean Laundry is the nation's first student-oriented laundry service. The new University City location marks the company's first venture into North Carolina. Services will allow students to not only have loads of laundry washed for them but will also include drying and folding.

No ticket or RSVP required. Parking for media will be limited to the rear lot with public parking available within walking distance.
