

Using your original article and a new article on the same topic, answer the following questions:

Article A title and URL: College Campuses Should Not Be Safe Spaces

<https://www.chronicle.com/article/college-campuses-should-not-be-safe-spaces/>

Article B title and URL: Don't Dismiss Safe Spaces

<https://www.nytimes.com/2019/08/29/opinion/safe-spaces-campus.html>

What Website published it?
A chronicle.com	B The New York Times

Does the site have advertising?
A yes there are side ads and one in the middle of the text. 4 total.	B Yes two in the middles of the text and some at the bottom.

What is the date of the article?
A January 17, 2019	B August 29, 2019

Who is the author? What are their credentials?
A Jonathan Zimmerman Jonathan Zimmerman is a professor of the history of education at the University of Pennsylvania. He is the co-author of The Case for Contention: Teaching Controversial Issues in American Schools (University of Chicago Press, 2017).	B By Michael S. Roth Mr. Roth is the president of Wesleyan University.

Did the writer remain impartial or did s/he try to persuade the reader in a certain direction? How can you tell?
A I think the author tried to persuade the reader in a direction because there is not much in the counterargument.	B The writer remained impartial because there were both sides presented on the argument in this article.

Which sources did the writer use or contact when writing this article?
--

A The author used events that happened and personal experience along with other professors on the matter	B This author used experience from being a university president and other schools and faculty.
---	---

Find an About us page for each Website. Summarize what you found.
A An unrivaled leader in journalism about higher education. It is privately owned, independent news and information organization, which was founded in 1966, originally owned by a nonprofit Editorial Projects in Education. Was fully bought in 1990 by Corbin Gwaltney	B Their mission is to seek truth to help people understand the world. They value independence from political parties. They also value integrity, curiosity, respect, collaboration, and excellence.

Go to https://mediabiasfactcheck.com/ and look up the two publications that published your articles. What does it say for each?
A Overall, we rate The Chronicle of Higher Education Left-Center Biased based on editorial positions that moderately favor the left. We also rate them High for factual reporting due to proper sourcing and a clean fact check record	B Overall, we rate the New York Times Left-Center biased based on word and story selection that moderately favors the left but highly factual and considered one of the most reliable sources for news information due to proper sourcing and well-respected journalists/editors.

Is one source more credible than the other? Why?

They are both slightly left center biased with highly rated facts. I would say they are both about the same. New York times might be slightly more credible due to highly respected journalists and editors.