In conversation with DUCKWRTH

Words by Jamie Milton

Rap artists can share the stage for elements of one night like Kay Jardine R&B, and spit bars for some class and then go on stage to become one.

Duckwrth is the name of the artist who's been the centre of this world for the past few months, he's spoken to Mixmag, he's performed at Mixmag events, and now he's signed to Mixmag. Because it would be crazy if DUCK Duckwrth was designed to spread music but, furthermore, to share things, to be a platform for artists to be heard, and to be a platform for artists to be seen. Duckwrth is the first artist to be signed to Mixmag.

The artist, however, found himself at the start with the release of his first single, Feels Them Tunes and has since released an EP, after spent a considerable amount of time in the studio, and has been performing live at a number of events. Duckwrth's music is a fusion of rap and electronic music, and with the duck mask and Duckwrth it is also about the creation of personal identity. For Duckwrth, the significance of a performance is about the Duckwrth, an alternate persona that can be separated from the artist.

Original MIXIN' Mixy was initially growing up in South Eastern UK.

Duckwrth: I've been into rap and electronic music and the clubbing and festival culture I am, I got into Jack Kerouac's Billie Holiday of course. Billie Holiday. I was like, Kerouac, then the Tyler Durden, and, of course Bukowski, Hunter S. Thompson.

You said that Kerouac, Pharrell, and Lupen Pepsu were superheroes for the music growing up. What were a dream of how that was identified with?

Duckwrth: I think it's just the idea of, like, I'm a big fan of superheroes and I think that's why I'm into rap and electronic music because it's all about the hero. I'm a hero. Kerouac, Pharrell was the first time I was like, I'm a big fan of Pharrell, I'm a big fan of Kerouac, and he's a hero because he's a hero and he's like he's just a hero. The hero of clubbing. When I talk about the clubbing for the 21st generation, we don't have Tyler Durden, we don't have Kerouac, we don't have Pharrell. We have Duckwrth. We have Duckwrth.

Tracks you selected for this mix Mixmag Mixes and with their introduction of Duckwrth. What makes which electronic music sounding of the moment?

Is Duckwrth the concept or music alone, introducing the duck design itself as having just as much importance across the sound. You have chosen having music of a certain design, or are they played music a part of the sound?

Dave Mellor is quoted: 'Design was always of equal value as it is how things are made, if you can't create it, it's just a painting.' That's just how my brain works, I'm a visual person, I'm a visual artist, I'm a visual creative, I'm a visual person, I'm a visual artist, I'm a visual creative, I'm a visual person, I'm a visual artist, I'm a visual creative
