Headline: Hawaii Wildfires 2023
Description: August 17, 2023. Lahaina, Hawaii.
American Red Cross Hawaii Region volunteer Lauralee Arnold embraces former Lahaina resident Jolene Rudolph. Rudolph and her partner tried to alert as many people as possible in Lahaina as they made their way out of town, escaping the flames. Rudolph is one of the many people transitioning into rooms provided by Maui hotels, where she will receive Red Cross care and assistance. While her living situation is improving, she's still processing everything she experienced.
"It's mostly the friends we're looking for," Rudolph said. "We had cats. They were his daughter's cats, and we can't even find her. I'm more worried about what we are going to do later on. How do we come back from this? [The hotel] is nice, and this is great and this is grand. I love it. It's nice that we can see a lot of our close friends [at the hotel], but this is just such a nightmare. You go through waves of emotions. You're all right, and then all of a sudden, it hits you."
