With more than 3,500 products, Abey Australia offers the largest range of kitchen and basin taps and sinks in Australia, in addition to exclusive Italian collections from Gessi, Armando, Vicario and Barazza Appliances. It is noted for its ability to curate end-to-end solutions to fit a range of designs and budgets. Abey's latest introduction, the Alfresco Party Sink Collection, successfully parlays this design legacy to a range of outdoor environments.

From intimate soirées to boisterous backyard barbecues, a common challenge that underscores most outdoor gatherings is adequate infrastructure. Food forgotten indoors or a warmer-than-average beverage can be enough to dampen the spirit of an otherwise pleasant get-together. Abey Australia's Alfresco Sink Collection seeks to solve this problem, with a selection of sinks crafted from 316 marine-grade stainless steel designed to withstand the elements and provide an outdoor alternative for food and drink storage. Their rust-proof nature makes them ideal for high-humidity and coastal environments.

The Alfresco Sink Collection comprises five sink and three tap variants. Of special note are the Alfresco Party 320 and Alfresco Party 620 sink designs, which provide the added benefits of insulation to keep beverages chilled even in sweltering outdoor settings and a prep station, making them a suitable centrepiece for garden parties. In addition to offering thermal insulation, these sinks are outfitted with an ice bucket, a double bottle holder, and two Fibre-Rock covers that double as serving platters or cutting boards, being knife-friendly, anti-bacterial and odour-resistant. The ice bucket and bottle holders offer similar flexibility, with the option to be concealed inside the sink when not in use. All sinks in the range can be installed either inset or undermounted.

The Alfresco collection holds a mirror to Abey Australia's sustainability ethos with taps engineered to offer superlative water efficiency. For a collection meant to be enjoyed outdoors, the Alfresco range tips its hat to the environment in more ways than one.
