Making Use Of Quarantine

Some of us may be going a little stir crazy as social distancing and self quarantining continues. Now is a good time to think of all of the things you've always wanted to do-but never actually got around to! Well if one was the thought of producing your own music, its time to get started. Ableton Live 10 Suite has launched a 90 day free trial with all features unlocked for you to make music with! Including exporting and saving.

Ableton is known to be one of the top DAW's used in the industry. Subtronics, DEADMAU5, Illenium, Flume, Skrillex, Bob Moses, have all produced with Ableton. It is definitely a favorite amongst all.

Make Some Noise!

Unfortunately, it looks like we will be in hibernation for awhile. Ableton is proving a full free three months access. That definitely allows enough time to get familiar with the software and start making some tunes. Live 10 Suite includes full access to all of the 56 audio effects and MIDI effects, 13 instruments and Max for Live. The final of these features allows you to download and use instruments and effects created by fellow users and developers. This practically offers unlimited potential for experimentation. Ableton has not announced when the 90 day trial will revert back to its original 30 day trial, so be sure to lock it in soon.

Learning The Software

There's also many free tutorials online available to help walk you through the setup. Ableton also offers Certified Training on their site. All over the globe, a growing group of trainers and institutions are offering approved Ableton teaching at all skill levels, both for individuals and groups.

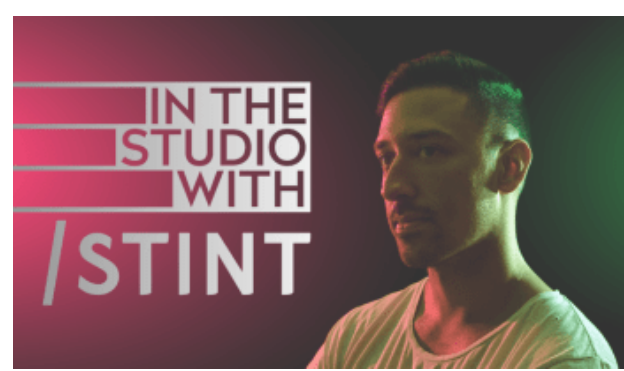

Quarantine time is a weird time, it's easy to let the hours, days and weeks fly by without doing anything productive. Its an opportunity to express your inner "wook" and create some innovative bass music. Put yourself out there! Who knows, maybe you will come out of quarantine collaborating with one of your favorite artists!

What is your reaction?
