Nobody throws a party like Bassnectar throws a party. Better yet, one that serves a consequential purpose. Earlier today, Bassnectar released the lineup for his two-day fundraiser camping event "808" which benefits his non-profit organization Be Interactive.

If you are not aware of Be Interactive, it's a nonprofit organization actioned by Lorin himself with hopes to inspire the empathic to make an impact through radical kindness, respectful creativity, volunteering, and charity.

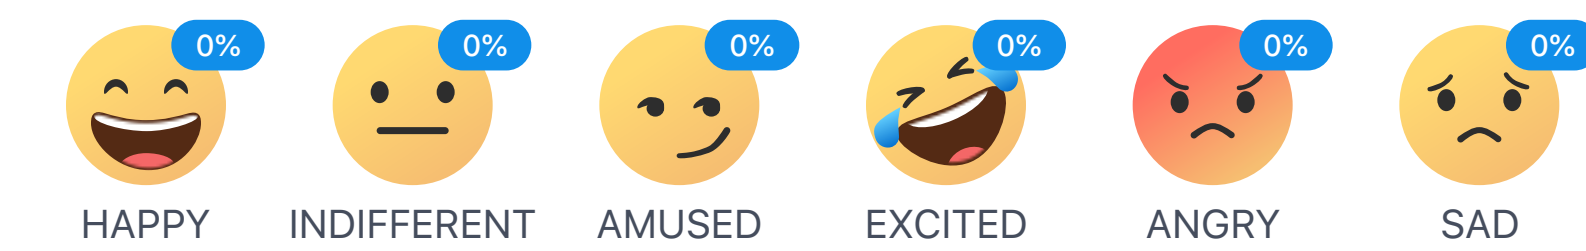

Lorin stated on Instagram yesterday

Quote: "Our non profit Be Interactive exists to encourage awareness, empower activism, and promote giving. Each year we raise funds to support our initiatives by donating a dollar per ticket from every Bassnectar event, and also through our annual fundraisers."

808 This, 808 That!

Furthermore, if you haven't noticed yet, the festival dates are no coincidence. What better way is there to celebrate 808 day by seeing the legendary nectar at his own curated event?
