FADE IN:

INT. THE GIRL'S POWDER ROOM - NIGHT

A gloomy little room with a small broken mirrored vanity, slightly lit up by the reflection of street lights.

A dark shadow emerges in-front of the vanity.

The manicured hand of THE GIRL, early 20s, emerges from darkness and pulls a string, lighting up the mirror with the sound of a CLICK. The light reveals the reflection of a doll-like girl with a pretty made up face, a ribbon in her hair, and cute lace dress.

A faint STOMACH-GROWL from the girl is heard as she looks at a stack of love letters on top of her vanity.

Her eyes reflected on the mirror skim through the contents of the letters while she traces her fingers along the side of her vanity revealing 3 crossed-out names carved into its wood. Her fingers stop at an uncrossed ADAM.

The girl places those fingers on her lips and gives them a small kiss. She leans closer to her reflection and gives herself one final look. She pouts her lips and bats her eyes while turning her head from side to side.

She moves away from her reflection and grips the ribbon in her hair with a steady and sharp face as her hands make a tight bow.

She practices a few different smiles, finds a sweet one, and CLICKS the lights off as she exits.

INT. THE GIRL'S POWDER APARTMENT - NIGHT

The reflecting street lights keep the room dim.

The girls hand reemerges from the shadows just as before and CLICKS the lights on revealing the reflection of the same pretty girl from before. Her sight focused behind her on what appears to be the remains of an emptied out gentlemen.

Her stare breaks as blood runs down the top of her head from underneath her bow.

Relieved, the girl unties her bow. As the ribbon becomes undone, the girl's human flesh slips off revealing her all red devil-like skin.

The girl's eyes glance at the stack of letters. With her sharp demon-like nails the girl crosses out the name ADAM and adds below it NANCY.

The girl pulls the light string.

FADE OUT.
