

This is Amy. She loves football.

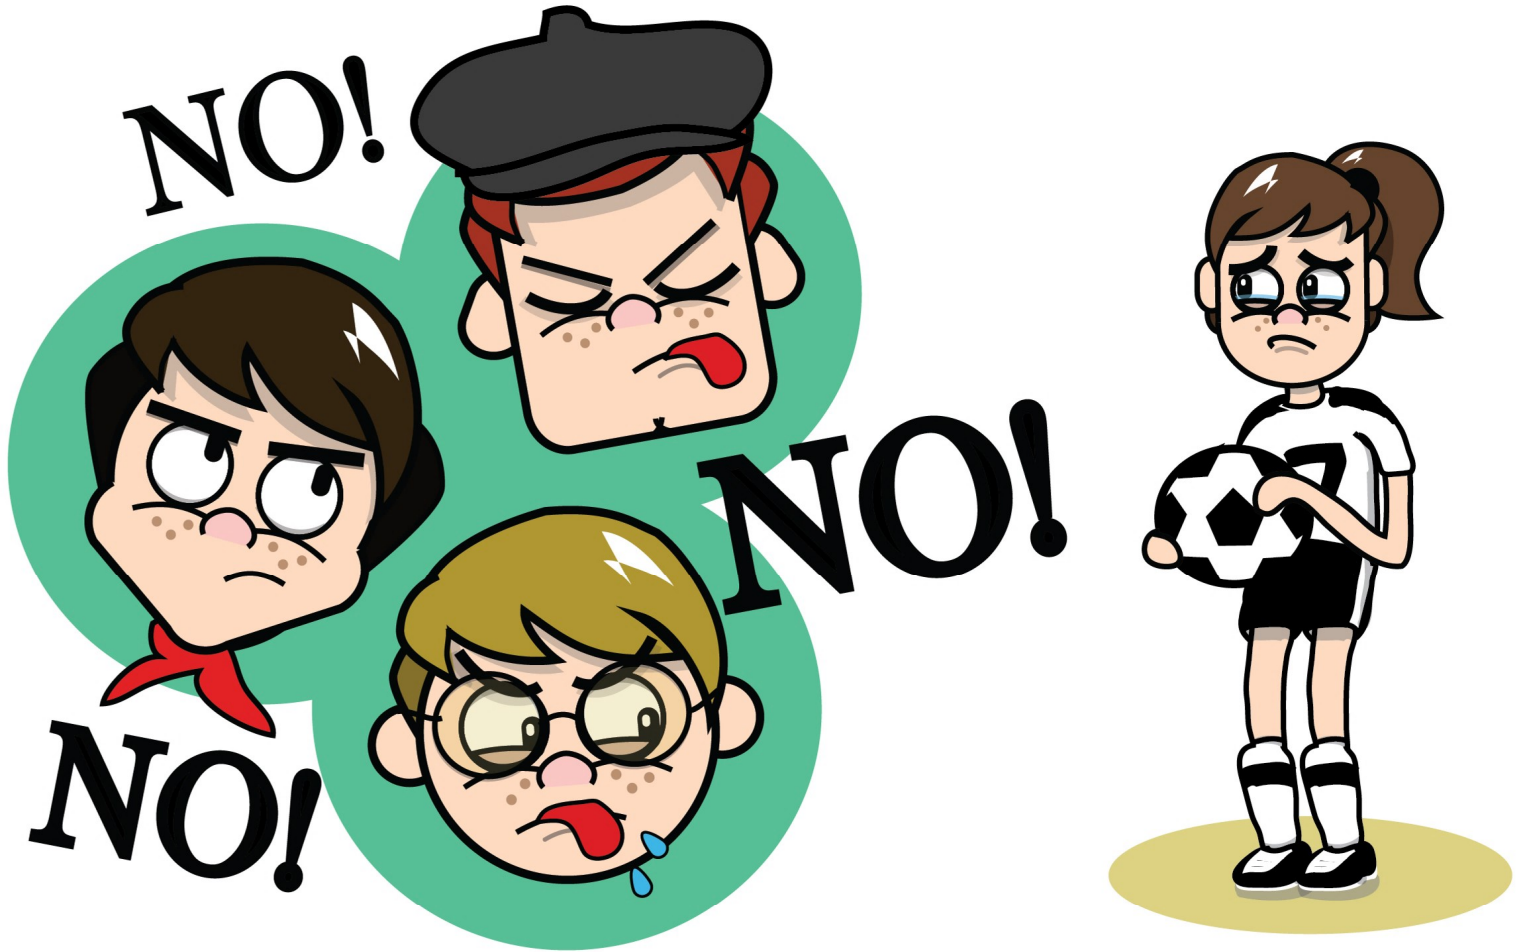

This is Amy. She is from England and she loves football.

Amy has three brothers. They don't like football.
They like other things.

Amy has three brothers. They dislike football, but each brother has a hobby!

Amy asks her brothers to play football. They don't play.

Amy wants her brothers to play football with her, but they don't. 3

Amy asks her brothers to watch football. They don't watch.

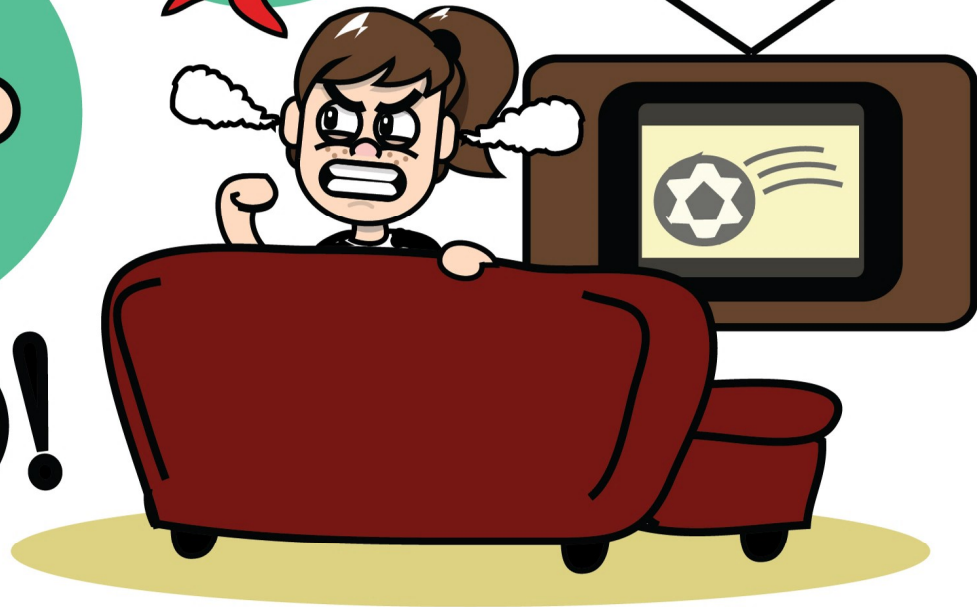

NO!

NO!

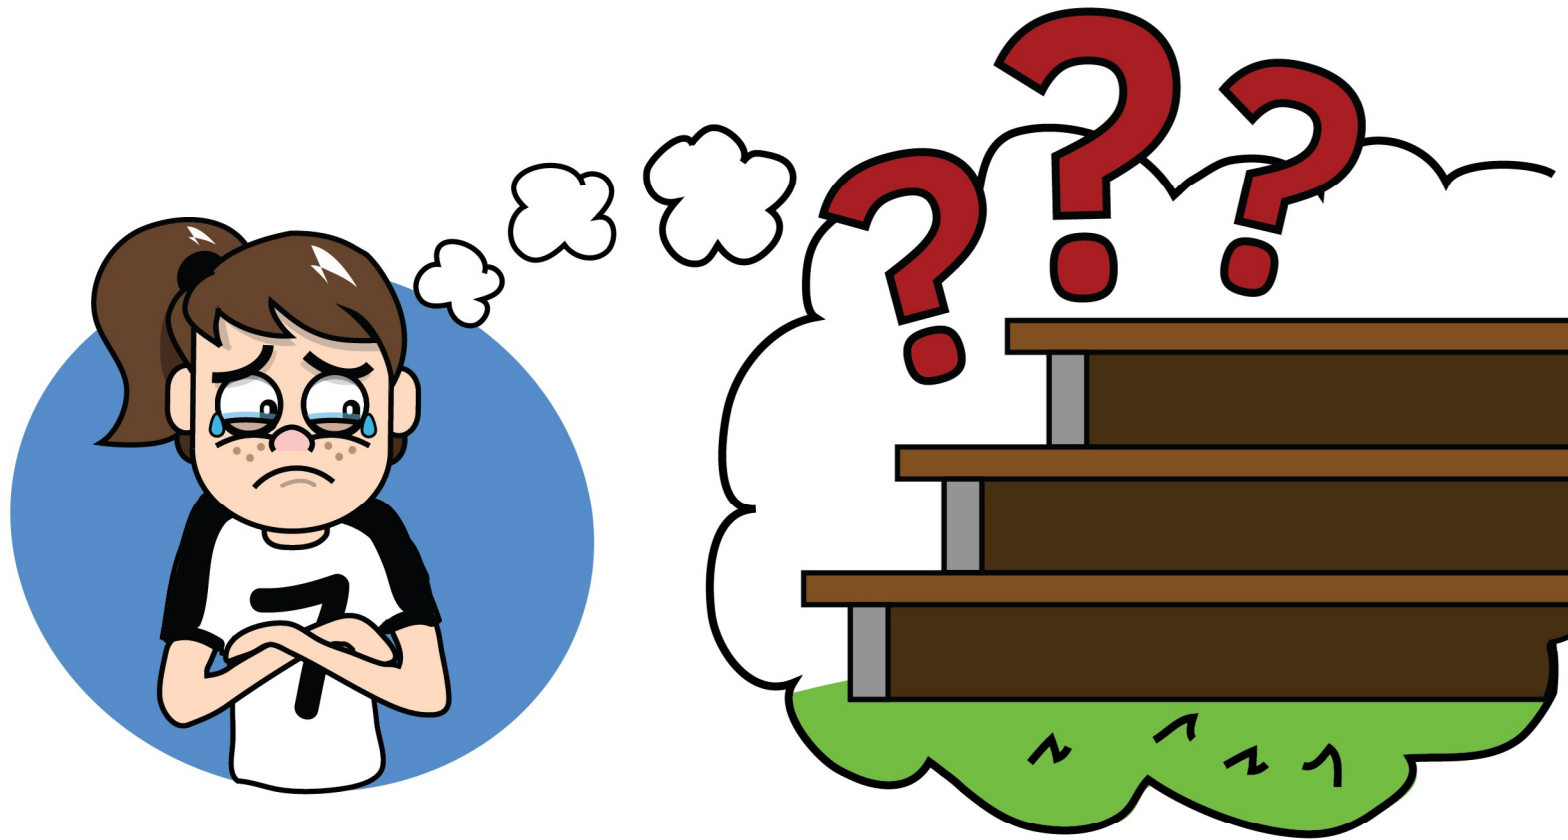

NO!

Amy wants her brothers to watch football with her, but they don't.

Amy isn't happy. She has a big football game at school.
She doesn't think her brothers are coming.

Amy has a big football game at school soon.
She is excited, but scared her brothers won't come.

She practices every day. Her brothers don't see her at home.

She practices and practices. Her brothers don't see her at home and they miss her.

She thinks about football. She doesn't think about other things.

She thinks about nothing but football.
Her brothers don't get to talk to her and they miss her.

It's the big game today! Amy isn't scared.

It's the day of the big game, but Amy isn't scared!

She doesn't run slow! She runs fast and wins the game!

She passes and runs and scores! She wins the game!

Her brothers don't forget to watch the game! They are so happy!

Her brothers come to watch. They cheer loudly and they are so proud of Amy!

Amy loves football and her brothers. They don't miss another game!

Amy loves football and her brothers, too. They never miss another game!