

Casey Almstead

Journalism Print/Digital

After graduating high school, I moved to Orlando to pursue my bachelor's degree in print/digital journalism and minor in event management at the University of Central Florida. I have strong interests in hard news writing and covering crime. I plan on graduating in fall 2022. In the past, I wrote for the Orlando Sentinel and the NSM.today. I am currently the news editor for the NSM.today, UCF's journalism program student publication.
