

Idyll Time

Taking inspiration from the Chinese said "Snatch a relief from life's drudgery" as the scenario of the design. The designer created a perfect villa-like home for a semi-retired couple, which connects spaces between life, emotions and memories. By adding minimalist style to the interior, the designer turned wall art into eye-catching centerpiece and presented an explosion of colors to create dynamic feel between rooms to the design.

In the living room, the wood-like marble TV wall is utilized to add a mild and warm ambience to the interior. Moreover, dark color-gray symbolizes room switching.

Sideboard cabinets in dining area increase storage capacity, and also provide space for creating mini coffee station at home. By enhancing the functionality of dining area, the designer created an area where family are brought closer together.

In the kitchen, milk tea color is used to inject a natural and gentle ambience into the design. In addition, the U-shape design makes smooth traffic flow to the users, which provides the users with enjoyable experience.

In the bedroom, there is a small office space where the owners can work from home and study in their spare time. Besides, the coating-glass screen separates spaces and improves privacy in room.

For walk-in closet, the dressing table allows the wife to have great time dressing up herself. And, the island unit adds style and storage in room. The open wardrobe and the shelves provide a convenience and easy organized storage space.

Mixing epoxy resins and hardener made tile gap filling agent with strong adhesion, the designer used it for bathroom to improve durability and mildew proof ability. Furthermore, the filling agent is color-correctable, which achieves the aesthetic and functional performance.

How to utilize proper materials was a challenge, after constantly compared all different materials and made samples, the designer found the ideal veins and texture of building materials in line with the interior style.
