

Beyond Limits

This house contains five floors, each floor is designed with different styles and features. The designer mixes eastern style and western style, vintage ambience and modern ambience in a cohesive way. Besides, breaking the fixed space limitations and infusing elegant streamlines into the house through the arch wall design.

For the ground floor and the second floor, utilizing natural stones with splash veins to create calm and splendid ambience. The ground floor is decorated with stone elements, which is the father's favorite style, and a gallery-like display area is arranged for him to show his collections.

The second floor has living room, dining room, and kitchen, the luxury stone decorations elevate the dining experience.

The warm and elegant country style is added to the third floor to create a cozy and relaxing place for the mother.

The fourth floor is the son's space, the unique wall design gives a European ambience.

The fifth floor is turned into a café-like décor, which allows the daughter to capture life with camera. Moreover, on the fifth floor, a paradisiacal space is designed for pets.

In order to create exotic style, referring to many international design projects. Finally, choosing materials which accentuate lines and textures for this project. How to use different styles to create a cohesive look with special colors is main challenge. By building hidden wall storage to strike a balance between functionality and aesthetics.