

Why You Should Buy a Used Hyundai Accent

If you're thinking of buying a used Hyundai Accent, you may have a few questions about your decision: Namely, is buying a used Accent a good idea? Well, the answer is simple: Yes, it's a wise decision. Below are 6 compelling reasons why buying a used Accent is a great option — courtesy of Accent specialists here at Florida Auto Reserve.

6 Reasons a Used Hyundai Accent Is a Fantastic Deal

1. Lower Price Tag

Let's start with the most enticing reason – the cost. A used Accent will still offer the Accent feel and experience for which you have such affection, but without the hefty price tag. You'll wind up saving huge amounts of money, which you can put towards your mortgage, vacation, or utility bills.

2. Slower Depreciation, How Convenient!

Did you know that most new vehicles lose about 10% of their value as soon as they're driven out of the showroom, and another 10% to 20% within the first year of ownership? If you go for a used Accent, there'll be no need to worry much about depreciation because the car has already experienced its biggest and worst drop in value.

Sure, your used Accent will still depreciate, but it'll be at a much slower rate. This means that if you decide to sell it in the next few years, you may still be able to sell it at a price very close to what you bought it for.

3. Lower Insurance Costs

Another area where used car buyers have a better financial deal is the insurance cost. Typically, the more value a vehicle has, the more it'll cost you to insure it.

Used Accents have a lower value than new Accents. For this reason, auto insurance premiums, such as Collision and comprehensive insurance coverages, are generally lower on used Accents.

4. Warranties

Unlike in the past, most used car dealers found on the market today offer warranties on their vehicles. Most warranties cover the first 36,000 miles or three years. A warranty is important as it offers you protection against repair costs and also helps increase the value of your vehicle.

5. Reliable

As Hyundai technology improves, Accents are becoming more and more reliable. Accents can now cover up to 100,000 miles without major problems. If you were worried about the reliability of used Accents, we hope your mind is now at ease.

Used Accents also offer excellent performance and buyers can confidently expect a long service life from them.

6. Eco-Friendly

Like buying refurbished electronics, buying used Accents prevents them from ending up in a landfill. This, in turn, prevents the production of high amounts of fine particulate matter (PM2.5), Carbon monoxide (CO), and nitrogen oxides (NOx), which are a major cause of global warming and environmental pollution.

And there you have it; five reasons why buying a used Accent is a fantastic idea. When buying a used Accent, make sure you buy it from a reputable source.
