The Taunto

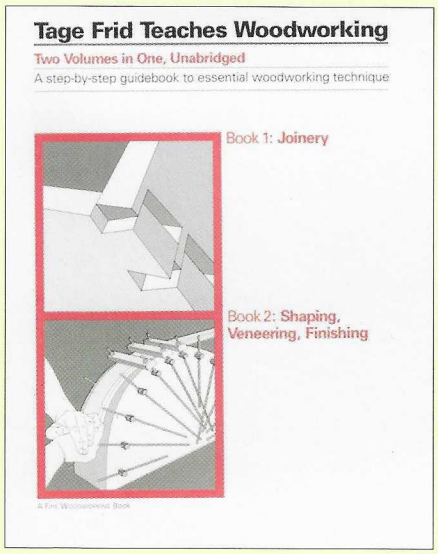

"If I had to choose just one publisher of home information to stock my shelves, it would be The Taunton Press. Each of their books is based on the experience of master tradespeople, filtered through the brains of technically-savvy editors."

Toronto Star

For over 20 years, The Taunton Press has created inspirational, unique books and magazines for a growing community of enthusiasts. From the renowned Fine Woodworking magazine, to Fine Homebuilding, Threads, Kitchen Gardener, Fine Gardening, and Fine Cooking, each Taunton magazine is known for its authentic voice of experience. Taunton's books, likewise, are widely appreciated as the final word on the subject. From classic works such as Understanding Wood to innovative design books such as The New Cottage Home and authoritative, how-to titles such as Wiring a House, Taunton's books offer a rich variety of instruction, design ideas, and authentic experience. And over the last two decades, millions of enthusiasts have made Taunton their first choice for expanding their own horizons in gardening, woodworking, home building and design, sewing, and cooking.

"Taunton has consistently offered excellent products, from the finest authors in their respective fields..." Library Journal

CLASSIC

Great books have an almost eternal appeal... and that's true for a host of Taunton's classic titles. Enduring, authoritative information illustrated for practical application best describes books such as The Workshop Book, The Graphic Guide to Frame Construction, and Fine Machine Sewing.

Tage Frid's first book, published in 1979, still receives rave reviews:

"As I've said ad infinitum, the very best technical books on woodworking are the three written for Taunton Press by Tage Frid."

Jack Warner, Cox News Service

INSPIRATIONAL

From the beauty of a timber frame home to the simplicity of a wooden fence or a uniquely designed scarf, Taunton brings innovative ideas together with art to create richly visual, one-of-a-kind books. The Toolbox Book, The Not So Big House, and Color in Garden Design have each been heralded for offering fresh, exciting perspectives.

"The New Cottage Home, Tolpin's handsomely illustrated coffee table concept book, is designed to inspire flights of fancy about living a saner, simpler life in a snug little cottage in the woods, by the sea or both."

The Maine Times

Linda Lee's beautifully photographed book, Scarves to Make, brings designer creativity to the home sewing room.

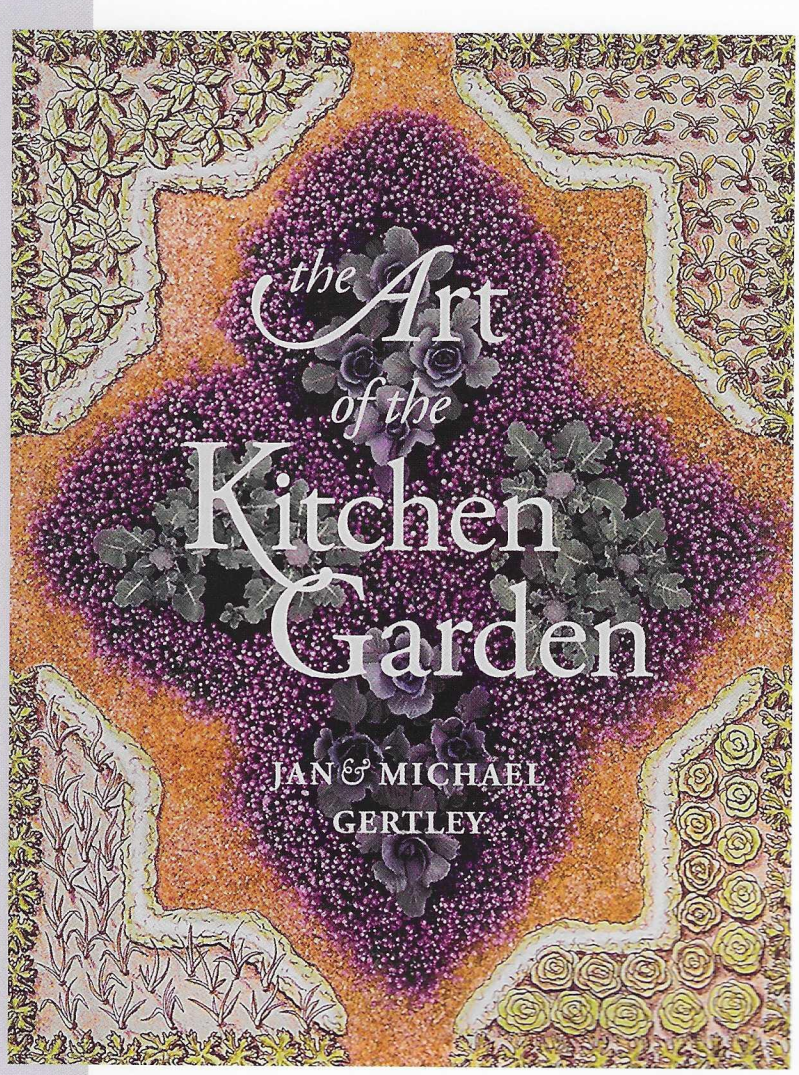

AUTHENTIC

Truly valuable books offer insights and experience that are uncommon. Taunton's books are known for their authentic quality for one reason—they are written with great care by the best people in the field. From the first page to the last, books such as Turning Wood with Richard Raffan, Building Traditional Kitchen Cabinets, and Sew the New Fleece offer the possibilities of personal discovery and mastery.

Christian Becksvoort, author of The Shaker Legacy and a cabinetmaker for over 35 years, builds furniture for the last surviving Shaker community at Sabbathday Lake, Maine.

"Some of us think vegetables are already beautiful. There are those among us, however, who have eschewed their culture in favor of ornamentals. Here, in these pages, such gardeners will find all they need to have their beauty and eat it too."

Roger Swain,
Host of PBS-TV's The Victory Garden
