

5 Destinations You Must Visit in Canada

Canada has all that travelers are craving. Located in North America, the country is full of beautiful nature, from amazing natural parks to beautiful European-like cities. If you are planning to visit Canada, here are 5 must-visit places for you to explore.

1. Niagara Falls

As you might hear of its name, the famous Niagara Falls is on the international border between Ontario and New York. Here, you can see the blue and clear water run down at the speed of 20 to 30 mph, creating a white misty fog all over the place. If you look around at the surrounding, you will find freshly green land in summer and clean white land in winter.

To make your visit memorable, you can see the falls closer by hopping on the Maid of the Mist boat. Be prepared to be wet and feel the refreshing air as the water touch you. Moreover, you can also stroll in through Inniskillin Winery or visit Niagara Parks Botanical Garden to see its splendid landscape. Afterward, you can also enjoy doing your favorite activities, whether it is hiking, dining, or enjoying the beautiful scenery.

2. Vancouver

When you are visiting Vancouver, an image of a city with a complete package will be on your mind. Surrounded by mountains and beaches, Vancouver offers beautiful sceneries as well as a lively city atmosphere. The city is also known as Hollywood North because many TV series and movies take place in this lovely city.

In addition to that, the city provides its residents and tourists with many outdoor recreations such as hiking, white water rafting, mountain biking, and kayaking. At the same time, you can also unwind and relax on the 11-mile beaches or read your favorite book in the city parks.

3. Jasper National Park

If your soul is hungry for nature and beautiful sceneries, Jasper National Park is the right answer. The park has it all from lakes, canyons, glaciers, and falls, ready to satisfy your adventurous spirit. Here, you can please your eyes with the beautiful sceneries of the park while taking a Jasper SkyTrim.

On the other hand, you can also explore the long hiking trails, have a boat tour on the beautiful Maligne Lake, or spot the abundant wildlife in the bushes. At night, be amazed by the starry skies while cuddling with your loved one. Prepare your eagle eyes and fit body to explore all the park must offer.

4. Quebec

This French-speaking city fulfills the dream of vintage travelers with its European ambiance. Old Quebec is one of the famous places and is considered a UNESCO World Heritage Site. While you are strolling this city, the feeling of being in Paris will hit you. Add to your exploration delicious baked bread fresh from the oven along with a good cup of espresso. Also, a lot of museums, parks, and other historical places await you here.

5. Banff

Located in Alberta, this resort town is a great holiday spot for those searching for adventure and luxury. Here, you don't need to wait for winter to glide on snowy land because skiing is available all year round in the famous Lake Louise Ski Resort. Moreover, you can also capture all the beauty while you're up in a gondola and go hiking in Johnston Canyon afterward. After that, pamper yourself in popular spa hotels and enjoy local food in downtown Banff.

Conclusion

Now that you have the list of Canada's hidden gems, it's time to prepare for a great holiday in this beautiful country. Don't forget to bring your loved one, family, or friends, because Canada has everything that suits everyone's interest.
