Subodh ousted from KPSC as he tried to cleanse it: BJP

State

BENGALURU: Senior BJP leader Jagadish Shettar on Tuesday said the state government has transferred IAS officer Subodh Yadav from the post of secretary, Karnataka Public Service Commission (KPSC), as he tried to usher in transparency in the recruiting body.

Speaking to reporters in Bengaluru, Shettar, who is the Leader of the Opposition in the Legislative Assembly, charged the government with blatantly indulging in corruption and shunting out officers who try to curb illegal activities.

Th former chief minister accused the government of denying permission to investigation agencies to prosecute corrupt officers. "The government is shielding the corrupt. The government has not processed request for prosecution sanction in as many as 100 cases," he said.

He also accused the government of misusing the Criminal Investigation Department to get a clean chit for ministers K J George and Tanveer Sait. DH News Service

Police team to probe Meti case

BAGALKOT: A team, headed by Jamkhandi deputy superintendent of police Ramanagowda Hatti, has been formed to investigate the complaint lodged by the woman involved in the sex scam that led to the resignation of HY Meti as minister.

The woman had filed a complaint at the Navanagar police station on December 17, saying that DAR constable Subhash Mugalakhod, BJP leaders Ashok Lagaloti, Siddalinga Abalakatti and Maruti Mirajkar, who runs a travel and courier business, had forced her to give a statement against the minister.

However, the police are still mulling over taking up the investigation as the case has been handed over to the CID. DH News Service

ED notice to Apex Bank on cash deposits in coops

Seeks details of accounts in DCC banks in 6 districts

Ambarish B

BENGALURU: Enforcement Directorate (ED) has issued notice to the Karnataka Cooperative Apex Bank Ltd to furnish details about certain accounts in district central cooperative (DCC) banks in the state.

The ED notice is part of nainvestigation tionwide launched to check cash deposits exceeding Rs 25 lakh in cooperative banks. The notice was issued to managing director of the Apex Bank to provide statements for the period, October 1, 2016 to December 19, 2016.

verification of instances of cash deposits made into the accounts in various DCC banks across the country. In this connection, you are hereby requested to furnish the certified copies of statements of accounts of various DCC banks across the state wherein cash deposits exceeding Rs 25 lakh have been reported. The list of names of the banks and the particulars of depositors are provided in the list," states the notice, a copy of which is with the DH.

Sources said that the ED has sought for statements of select account holders in six districts: Bagalkot, Mandya, Belagavi, shina Kannada. The ED has also mentioned the account numbers and cash deposited into such accounts since October 2016, and sudden rise in the deposits after demonetisation on November 8.

"The ED officials seem to have conducted preliminary enquiry into the huge cash deposits before issuing the notice. The notice has all the details such as name of the account holder, account number and the amount deposited during the check period. We have written to these banks, which include certain Sauhardha banks and societies. Based on the list pro-

"ED has taken up detailed Shivamogga, Kolar and Dak-vided by the ED, two to three branches of DCC banks in each district have been asked to fur nish details. The details will be forwarded to the ED within two days," Apex Bank President and MLA KN Rajanna said.

Earlier, the Income Tax department had issued notices to cooperative banks in the state to adhere to the notification on cash deposits in view of demonetisation. Even before the demonetisation, the Directorate of Income Tax (Intelligence and Criminal Investigation wing) had found thousands of unreported entries of huge cash deposits in cooperative banks.

Silk should become unisex fabric: Smriti

BENGALURU: Union Minister for Textiles Smriti Zubin Irani on Tuesday said, to diversify the apparel sector, silk should become unisex fabric.

The notion that silk is meant only for women should change, the minister said at the launch of indigenous automatic reeling machine and inauguration of the Centre of Excellence for Training at the Central Silk

She said scientists, officials and marketing teams should sit together and find out new areas for better utilisation of silk. She said a meeting would be held in New Delhi in the third week of January 2017, to discuss the proposal to bring silk under the new textile policy. Smriti made out a case for digitisation of the silk sector. Digitisation would help track the availability of raw materials in the textile sector, benefiting people who work in an unorganised manner," she

She felt that the digitisation would also eradicate middlemen. A mobile application 'E-Dhaga' has been launched in Hindi, English and Urdu. The app will soon be launched in Kannada, Urdu, Bengali and Assamese, she said.

Smriti said that an outreach programme was required for cocoon producers so that the government can provide them some support. She felt the need to create clusters of silk growers under the outreach programme and, reaching out to areas where silk production is Union Minister for Statistics and Programme Implementation, D V Sadananda Gowda, highlighted the plight of silk growers saying that the Karnataka government has not done enough to protect the interest of people in the silk industry. "Of the 14,000 metric tonnes of silk produced in the country, 9,000 metric tonnes is contributed by Karnataka alone. I request the chief minister to give more attention to silk growers and weavers. More training programmes need to be conducted for silk farmer said Gowda.

On the occasion, 16 officials were felicitated for their exemplary services in the field of sericulture.

Mobile planetaria to unveil the universe for kids in villages

Meghana Choukkar

BENGALURU, DHNS: High school students in remote villages of Karnataka will soon get a chance to explore planets, galaxies and the universe right on their school premises.

Mobile planetaria will go from school to school as part of a project by the Department of Science and Technology.

Bringing the stars to the students will be customised vans carrying domes and telescopes. One van will travel in each of the four revenue divisions over a period of three years.

"Students will be viewing shows in Kannada about the sun, stars, universe, man landing on the moon and so on. The content is based on their syllabus," a scientific officer of the Karnataka Science and Technology Promotion Society (KSTePS) said. KSTePS will implement the project with the help of Varnaaz Technologies. They will be in charge of procuring the van and equipment and running the service. The project cost for three years is estimated at Rs five crore.

"It is not possible to set up a mini-planetarium in every district because each one costs about Rs six crore to Rs 10
