
Webinar for Graphic Designers

Video Script

Hi, I am Steven Butler with a very important message for Graphic Designers.

Are you stuck in a creative rut?

Do you use the same design elements again and again because you lack innovation?

Then you should sign up and save the date for “Always Design Ready”.

“Always Design Ready” is a webinar I am hosting on the 7th of September at 6 pm Eastern time.

At this no-bullshit live training, I’m going to show you: -

- The places to look, where you will always find inspiration
- How to maximize productivity by being silly

- The meditation that births creativity; and a whole lot more!

At the end of this live training, you'll get refreshed ideas for your next project and weaponized to beat your creative rut.

So, signup now and join me on Wednesday 7th of September for "Always Design Ready!"

Can't make the date?

You should still signup as that's the only way you can get access to the recording of the live training.

But I encourage you not to miss the live training as you can get the opportunity to ask questions and get answers live.

Register now, and I'll see you at the webinar.
