

HeartWorks Reminder

Your Free Trial has expired!!!

by Bridget on July 06, 2022

Dear Mark,

Your free trial has expired. Don't worry you haven't lost nor will you lose any work you've done so far. All you've got to do is:

- Upgrade and you'll be able to access your account once again. If you thought our free trial was good, best believe you enjoy our application a lot more, now that you have full access to all the services we offer. Our monthly bill is $10 per month. A one hour live training session will also be made available to you at your request.
- Demo, you can book for a demo session. A personal tour where the features of the app and how they work will be explained and you'll be able to see and choose how best HeartWorks can work for you.
- Request for a free trial extension. If you'd like to extend your trial for an extra seven days. Send us an email requesting one. We promise to get back to you before the day runs out .

Have you previously tried to upgrade and experienced any issues, email us:

HeartWorksCustomerCare@gmail.com

Don't forget to send us an email if you have any questions

Sincerely,

Bridget,

Chief Product Officer.
