

The Perfect Australia Day Outfit

IT'S NOT SO FAR FETCHED

Whether your plans are to relax by the pool with family or sip on fancy cocktails at your favourite bar with friends, I'm certain the thought has already crossed your mind - what shall I wear this Australia Day?

I admit this question has been hanging over me too, so this week I checked out the luxury online store Farfetch for some outfit inspiration.

With so many incredible designers and items of clothing to choose from, I took the liberty of fashioning a wish list. And voilà - the perfect Australia Day ensemble fell right into my basket. Funny how quickly that can happen ...

Cross-over back T-shirt: $947.75
Shorts in crepe couture: $1,117.39
Crystal embellished cuff: $553.66
'Sicily' backpack: $2,174.23
'Dana' sandals: $1,053.27
'Amirah' hat: $668.86

I decided to opt for something airy and summery by selecting a bright coloured chiffon tee. The light material will hang loosely over the tailored white shorts, and the red bag and heeled sandals will bring a taste of elegance to the overall style. Of course, with the Australian weather in mind, I couldn't go without finishing the look with a cute woven straw hat.

I hope this has given you some style inspiration for your Australia Day celebrations next week. You can find all of these items and many more amazing designs at www.farfetch.com.
