BE THE FUTURE

Welcome to University Canada West

EDUCATING LEADERS since 2004

President's Welcome

As the President of University Canada West (UCW), I'd like to thank you for taking an interest in our institution. If you've picked up or downloaded this brochure, it's likely because you're planning your next big move. I'm so glad you've discovered us.

You may be thinking about getting your first degree, upskilling for a promotion, planning a career change or simply seeking a stronger measure of security in uncertain times. You might be from the greater Vancouver area; you may be from BC's interior or its northern reaches; or you may be from anywhere across Canada or around the world. UCW welcomes all of you.

UCW was founded in 2004 as a business and technology-focused university. Our faculty stand out for their hands-on business experience, and our programs are able to stay abreast of the latest changes and trends in business, entrepreneurship and innovation. We offer smaller class sizes and flexible programs, so that students can balance their school commitments with work and personal life.

But what is very special is we also offer one of Canada's best urban campus experiences. Vancouver is an oceanfront metropolis set against a backdrop of snow-capped mountain peaks. Our two campuses are located in the heart of the city, a short walk away from either the beach or the business district. Our new campus is situated in the recently-completed Vancouver House development, an architectural marvel hailed all over the world for its structural and design innovations.

Once at UCW, you'll meet students from more than 100 different countries. They've all chosen to study here in Canada, and they're discovering what our local students have always known: Vancouver is a tremendous city, and UCW offers one of its best learning experiences. Our campuses and our faculty foster a cohesive student community that's working and studying together and supporting each other.

COVID-19 has changed much about the world and created uncertainty for many, but UCW has emerged from the pandemic better prepared than ever. Our COVID-19 response is designed to keep our campus safe for everyone.

As you read through this brochure, you'll learn more about UCW's selection of excellent, business and tech-focused undergraduate and graduate programs. If you are ready to take your next big step, UCW is here for you. I hope to see you on campus soon.

Your success is our priority and this is what makes us different. We genuinely care.

A PLACE TO STUDY, WORK & PLAY

UCW understands the importance of sustainability to the future of our planet. We are committed to creating a green footprint for the environmental stewardship of our campuses. UCW strives to not only teach sustainability but also to model it through our own actions.

CURRICULUM & FACULTY

University Canada West is dedicated to expanding our sustainability footprint through ongoing integration of sustainability throughout our academic offerings.

For UCW students, sustainability can be a component of your educational program. Today, we offer two types of sustainability education:

- Course content within our degree programs; and
- A micro-credential in Corporate Social Responsibility \(CSR\).

In addition, several professors at UCW are involved in sustainability research or lead sustainability initiatives as part of their professional practice. View the full list of sustainability courses on the website at: ucanwest.ca/about/sustainability/academics.

TRANSPORTATION

UCW is ideally located near public transit. In fact, students arriving at Vancouver International Airport (YVR) might never need to drive. The UCW Vancouver House Campus is conveniently close to two adjacent active travel paths, rapid transit and an express bus service within a 10-minute walk, as well as a shuttle that supports both bikes and wheelchairs to our door, and a foot ferry that also accommodates cyclists.

Transportation is responsible for approximately half of the climate emissions created in the City of Vancouver. Gas-powered vehicles also contribute to public health crises, including respiratory disease caused by microscopic particulate emissions (learn more about PM2.5 here) from combustion and tire particles. The automobile also consumes more than 2% of our land mass for roads and parking. Overall, transportation is one of the more important sustainability issues of our time.

UCW manages our transportation footprint by:

- Ensuring that our community is aware of transit options (rail, bus and boat)
- Encouraging and facilitating self-propelled modes of commuting (walk, run, bike)
- Where possible, reducing the amount of travel required by staff and students (remote work and study).

Our Sustainable Transportation Policy can be found on the website at: ucanwest.ca/about/policies.

If you need to drive to UCW, we won't hold it against you, but we will encourage you to get an electric vehicle or carpool as health restrictions allow.

UCW has an active working group that considers issues of policy and Transportation Demand Management (TDM). This group reviews any comments about transportation and directs them to the appropriate party. They also make recommendations to the Executive Committee.

Current TDM Working Group Members include:

- Ed Bagg – VP Operations & IT Services
- Herneet Dhillon – Executive Director, People & Culture
- Adrian Mitescu – Director, Institutional Accountability

CAMPUS BUILDINGS

Energy

While the campus has a great deal of windows, efficient triple pane glass was used to create a tight envelope or shell to reduce heat loss. Each of UCW's buildings is also well shaded to reduce solar heat gain in the summer.

To create optimal insulation, bird habitat and a pleasing aesthetic, each of our buildings are topped with green roofs.

The buildings are on a district energy system for both heating and cooling. When heating in the winter, the district energy system relies on 96% efficient boiler systems that deliver low temperature hot water for heating.

All of the lighting within our campus is light emitting diode (LED) technology and we selected classroom AV and kitchen appliances for energy efficiency.

In support of electric vehicles, all parking spots in our underground parking are wired for EV chargers.

Tips: Help us conserve energy to reduce our impact on the planet by:

- Turning off lights and appliances when not in use
- Taking the stairs whenever possible (It's better for your health too)

Water

Water and energy have always been closely linked in the world of building management. The water that we use takes energy to clean, move and dispose of after use. This is true in British Columbia, as much as anywhere in the world, because 97% of our electricity comes from hydroelectric dams.

At UCW, all of our fixtures are low flow efficiency rated to reduce water consumption. In the interest of human health, dining facilities are also equipped with additional purification systems.

The aforementioned green roofs control storm water by absorbing rainfall. They also delay storm water release by emptying excess water to a cistern system before releasing into the city's stormwater sewers.

Recycling

When UCW moved to Vancouver House, the University was careful to follow the waste management hierarchy by:

- Reducing our need for materials (Reduce)
- Identifying any materials that we could bring with us (Reuse)
- Ensuring materials we needed had recycled content (Recycle) and that our relocation and purchase packaging was recycled
- Recovering hard to recycle by-products from our purchases (Reclaim)

UCW also REFUSED to use materials that were red-listed or compromised indoor air quality.

Here are a few examples of such measures:

- Requiring air quality certification for our purchased furnishings, fittings and finishes (such as chairs, carpets, counters and paints)
- Selected carpet that had high recycled material content
- Ensured selection of long-lasting and easily repaired furniture

Of course, our society still wears things out and relies on packaging for product protection and safety. To answer this need for waste management, UCW has an active recycling program.

At every dining area, you'll find four product waste receptacles. We separate items that can't be easily recycled from:

- Food waste (organics)
- Containers (plastic, glass and aluminum)
- Wood fiber (paper and cardboard)

If you're not sure what can be recycled, a current list of materials can be found on the Recycling BC website.

Tip: Want to help reduce waste? Start by refusing to use single-use containers. The most common source of avoidable waste is our drinking containers. Carry a reusable mug and water bottle, hydration is also important to your health and studying.

Our Vancouver House Campus is a highly efficient building due to a wide variety of sustainability features and its recent construction (2020). The developer of our campus is currently pursuing sustainable building certification from the Canada Green Building Council.

Why Study in Canada?

Many international students studying in Canada are eligible to work up to 20 hours a week if they are enrolled in a full-time program for at least six months. Upon graduation, former students can apply for a Post-Graduation Work Permit.

QUALITY EDUCATION

Students who study in Canada have access to some of the highest quality education in the world. Universities in Canada and British Columbia are internationally known for excellence. All universities and colleges are regulated by the provincial governments. If you are attending a university in Canada, you know it is meeting or exceeding strict government standards.

CANADA IS SAFE

Canada has long been considered a very safe country. It boasts lower crime rates than many other western nations and the border between Canada and its closest neighbour, the United States, is the longest undefended international boundary in the world.

AFFORDABLE EDUCATION

The cost of schooling for international students studying in Canada is considerably cheaper than elsewhere in the world. Among English-speaking destinations, Canada has the lowest tuition fees for international students.

Canada currently ranks 10th out of 163 countries on the 2022 Global Peace Index.

A PATH TO A PROMISING FUTURE

Research has shown that Canadian college and university students, both domestic and international, graduate with strong earning potential. Canadian post-secondary institutions position graduates for a successful future and rewarding careers. Between March 2009 and March 2019, Canada created 1.8 million new jobs for graduates.

Kootenay Rockies

Tofino

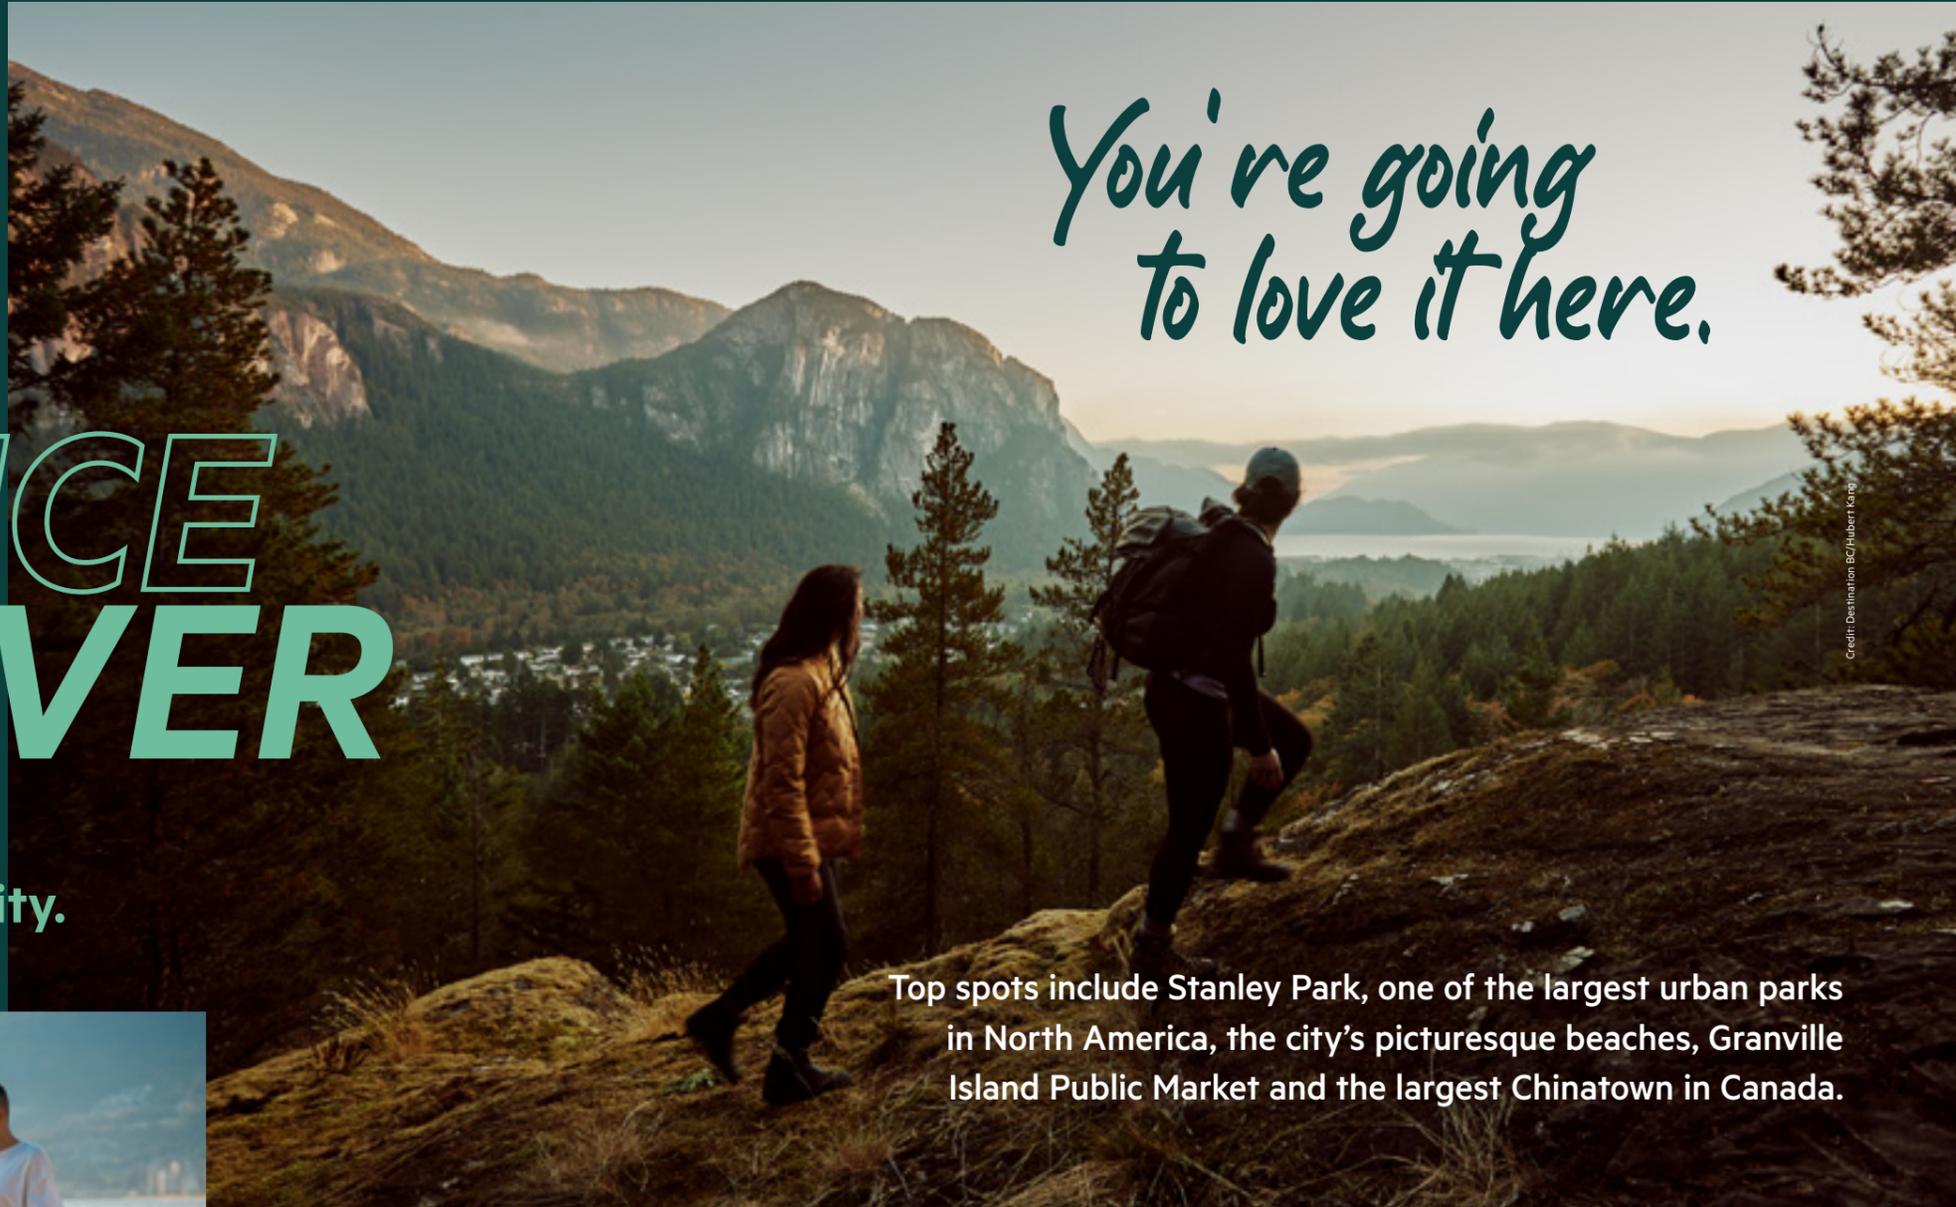

In 2020, Canada hosted more than 530,000 international post-secondary students. And many international students decide to make their move to Canada permanent. In fact, more than 58,000 former international students have gone on to become Canadian permanent residents.

VANCOUVER'S SEAWALL

One of Vancouver's top attractions is a paved pathway that stretches 28 kilometres around the city's waterfront. Known locally as The Seawall, following this route is one of the best ways to discover Vancouver. UCW's new Vancouver House Campus is located just steps away from The Seawall, which is the world's longest uninterrupted waterfront path.

VANCOUVER'S GREEN SPACES

Vancouver is home to more than 230 parks and green spaces, including the world-famous Stanley Park. At 405 hectares, Stanley Park is one of the largest urban parks in North America and is larger than New York City's Central Park. It is home to roughly half a million trees, including many that are hundreds of years old. Stanley Park features kilometres of trails, beautiful beaches, local wildlife, and natural, cultural and historical landmarks.

THE VANCOUVER FACTOR

Vancouver offers a wealth of study and work opportunities. The city has a rich history across different business sectors and has made a significant impact on the world economy with both traditional and newer industries, including a booming technology sector. BC has a skilled and innovative workforce, rich natural resources, high quality of life and its gateway location between North America and Asia provide the foundation for almost unlimited economic opportunity.

VANCOUVER FAMILY FUN

Vancouver is made for families! In addition to a bounty of family-friendly activities and attractions and more than 230 parks and green spaces, Vancouver boasts more than 150 playgrounds and 24 community centres that offer a variety of services and activities for all ages. The city is home to nine indoor and five outdoor swimming pools, 14 spray parks and several wading pools, as well as eight indoor ice rinks.

VANCOUVER'S DIVERSITY

Vancouver is made up of a mix of different religions, ethnicities and cultural groups from around the world, as well as Canada's Indigenous communities. The city is home to a vibrant historic Chinatown. Established in the 1890s, today Vancouver's Chinatown is the largest in Canada and the third largest in North America. The city's historic Punjabi Market area, also known as Little India, celebrated its 50th anniversary in 2020. It is the epicentre for the city's Indo-Canadian community and its annual Vaisakhi Parade, which draws more than 100,000 people. It has become the region's largest single-day festival.

CYCLING

Vancouver's moderate climate makes it possible to cycle almost year-round. The City of Vancouver has a comprehensive system of bike routes, paths, dedicated bike lanes and greenways throughout the city. And Vancouver's North Shore is famous for its stellar mountain biking terrain. It has been featured in countless freeride films and has inspired trail builders and bikers around the world to replicate that North Shore style.

GOLFING

Vancouver's mild climate means that you can play golf almost all year round, and there are several golf courses within the city of Vancouver, as well as in the surrounding region, where you can play a round, practise your swing and perfect your putt.

FISHING

Vancouver is the ultimate place to fish due to its endless coastline. Before heading out on the water, fishing-enthusiasts will need to get a license from a tackle shop, department store or marina. You can then charter a boat from any reputable organization located at Granville Island, Horseshoe Bay or Coal Harbour.

SKIING AND SNOWBOARDING

Snow rarely falls in the city of Vancouver, but the same cannot be said for the city's local ski hills – Cypress Mountain, Grouse Mountain and Mount Seymour, which delight locals and welcome tourists from around the country all winter long. And just a couple hours north of the city, is British Columbia's world-famous Whistler/Blackcomb Ski Resort. At more than 3,278 hectares, it is the largest ski resort in North America and boasts the greatest uphill lift capacity.

HIKING

Whether you're an experienced hiker, or a beginner looking to enjoy the great outdoors, there is a plethora of hiking trails for all ages and abilities in and around Vancouver. Pacific Spirit Park, which is located on the west side of the city, offers several easy trails of varying lengths throughout more than 750 hectares of richly dense forest. Looking for more of a challenge? The Grouse Grind or "Mother Nature's Stairmaster," as its commonly known amongst city residents, is a 2.5-kilometre hike up Grouse Mountain. Don't let the short distance fool you, this steep trail features an 800-metre elevation gain – there's a reason many locals call it Mother Nature's Stairmaster. However, when you get to the top you will be rewarded with the most breath-taking views of the city and Burrard Inlet from the 853-metre summit.

From skiing to kayaking and whale watching, Vancouver offers a stunning backdrop for all adventure seekers.

WATER SPORTS

As a city on the water, Vancouver has plenty to offer for water-sports enthusiasts. Stand-up paddleboarding has become increasingly popular in recent years and there are several locations in the city that offer paddleboard rentals, guided tours and even paddleboard yoga.

If paddleboarding isn't your thing, you can still enjoy Vancouver's waters from a kayak or canoe. And if you're looking to escape the urban jungle, Deep Cove is located only 25 minutes from downtown Vancouver. From there you can access Indian Arm, a scenic fjord surrounded by spectacular mountains. There are many destinations along Indian Arm that range from only a half hour to a full day paddle from Deep Cove either by kayak or stand up paddleboard.

BRITISH COLUMBIA LABOUR MARKET 2021-2031 FORECAST

While employment in British Columbia was impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic in 2020, the economy has made a strong recovery. Employment is now 102.1% above pre-pandemic levels and BC has one of the lowest unemployment rates in Canada at 5.3%.

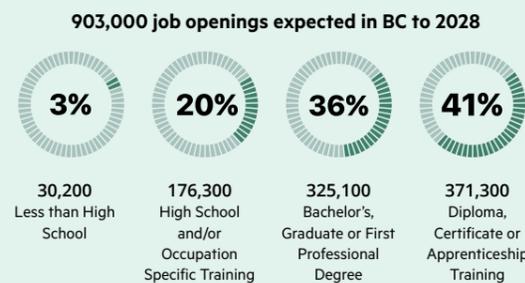

Overall, labour demand is expected to grow faster than supply in BC, resulting in tight labour market conditions where the demand for workers surpasses the supply of workers.

A GROWING DEMAND FOR WORKERS

It is predicted that there will be more than one million job openings in British Columbia between now and 2031. This includes 369,000 new jobs due to recovery from COVID-19 or new economic growth and the need to replace 635,000 workers who will permanently leave the workforce, largely due to retirement.

Canada welcomed more than 405,000 new permanent residents in 2021. To ensure the nation has the workers needed to fill critical labour market gaps, the 2022-2024 Immigration Levels Plan aims to continue welcoming immigrants at a rate of about 1% of Canada's population, including 431,645 permanent residents in 2022, 447,055 in 2023 and 451,000 in 2024.

Employment and Opportunities

Vancouver is a hub of exciting activities and a city full of great opportunities. You will be able to acquire relevant work experience, which is an important step in launching your career. Many UCW students and graduates are working in or outside Canada, retaining global presence.

There are many reasons why students want to work globally. It is very common for students, who live and work away from their home country on a permanent basis, to move to a new city or seek a new position while there.

BUSINESS COURSES POWERED BY THE LATEST TECHNOLOGY

UCW continues its evolution towards becoming Vancouver's tech-business university. We've partnered with leading business and tech companies, such as Salesforce, Amazon, Shopify, Facebook and many others to incorporate their latest technology and expertise into the Master of Business Administration program courses at UCW.

Amazon Web Services (AWS) is the world's most comprehensive and broadly adopted cloud platform from startups to large enterprises. UCW has integrated a number of their Cloud and Machine Learning Certifications into Cloud Computing Technologies and Machine Learning Tools and Techniques courses.

Our partnership with the Digital Marketing Institute (DMI) means that upon successful completion of the Marketing Management course, you will receive associate level certification from DMI. You will then have the option to take a set of three digital marketing electives, which will set you up to take DMI's Pearson VUE test to get certified as a Digital Marketing Professional, in addition to earning your MBA degree from UCW. Thanks to a partnership between DMI and the American Marketing Association (AMA), if you complete the digital marketing electives and pass the DMI Pearson VUE test, you will also get AMA Professional Certified Marketer certification.

Facebook Blueprint helps connect learners to skills, courses and certifications that will help businesses to optimize their social media presences on Facebook, Instagram, Messenger and WhatsApp. Students can complete the Facebook Certified Digital Marketing Associate certification through the completion of the Digital Marketing course.

UCW has created a new course about entrepreneurship. Business-641 (Entrepreneurship) incorporates IBM Design Thinking into the MBA program. The IBM Design Thinking model is a scalable framework aimed at big enterprises that uses three principles to solve complex problems creatively.

Riipen brings industry and academia together, with real company projects. Projects are embedded directly into curriculum or completed as remote internships. Immersing students in industry projects equips them with work-ready skills.

Salesforce is an online solution for customer relationship management (CRM). It gives all departments within a company, including marketing, sales, commerce and service, a shared view of their customers with one integrated CRM platform. Salesforce has been incorporated into the Marketing Management course.

Shopify is an all-in-one SAS e-commerce platform that allows businesses to launch, run and grow an online business. UCW, through our E-Commerce course, has partnered with Shopify to train students how to start, run and grow an e-commerce business.

Tableau, a powerful data visualization tool used in the business intelligence industry, has been incorporated into UCW's Business Analytics course.

WORK INTEGRATED LEARNING

All students complete one of the following exit courses:

- WORK 601 (3 CREDITS) – GRADUATE INTERNSHIP – Students with limited job experience will be matched to a commercial company based on their e-portfolio. Under guidance, they will gain practical knowledge and skills through completing an analysis of their assigned role. After identifying a challenge, students propose ways to solve it and build a strategic plan. They present a video story outlining their activities, their contribution to the organization, analysis of the internship experience and their recommendations for a solution to the challenge. The final report documents how they were able to integrate into the organization and describe proposed solutions with outcomes. All assignments are posted to their e-portfolio and evaluated by both the instructor and supervisor.
- CAPS 602 (6 CREDITS) – CAPSTONE CONSULTING – Students define and analyze a real-life project based on their assessment of its needs, challenges and opportunities. After identifying a challenge, they analyze it, propose solutions and build a strategic plan. Throughout, students update their e-portfolio showcasing their progress and create a personalized video presentation explaining their activities, experience and contributions to the organization. They produce a written report and analysis of the problem, their contributions and recommendations. Students participate in a mock employment interview and pitch the professional experience and benefits they gained from their project.

All assignments will be reviewed and evaluated by the instructor and employer supervisor.

- MENT 630 (3 CREDITS) – LAUNCH YOUR BUSINESS – This hands-on applied course focuses on the creation, evaluation, development and launch readiness of a new business or social venture. The course is one of the completion options for the MBA program. For each new venture, key issues are addressed in a fashion consistent with other formal venture planning processes, including business model development, customer discovery, product-market validation, in-depth industry and market analysis, product or service innovation, brand development and go-to-market strategies, team selection and management, profit models, financing and legal considerations. Throughout this course, students refine their venture's business model based on instructor and peer feedback.
- MBAR 661 – RESEARCH PROJECT – Research Project, the final stage in the MBA degree, is completed independently under the direction of an assigned academic supervisor. Students will be assessed on the quality of the final paper and their ability to conduct practical research (typically field research) and to analyze the results and implications of this research. The project will be important not only to advance and apply what you have learned in the MBA program, but also for the value it delivers to the sponsor organization, whether that is the student's own workplace or another organization. Students will be required to do an oral presentation of their research paper to invited members of the University community.

CENTRE FOR LEARNING SUCCESS

The Centre for Learning Success provides access to evidence-based integrated learning programs designed to support student achievement.

A major component of the Centre for Learning Success is the mandatory Learning for Success workshops.

These weekly workshops start in the first week of classes. Every week in the first four weeks of their first term, new students are required to complete a different Learning for Success workshop where they learn about things like academic integrity, improving their academic writing, preparing to study for and take exams, and key skills to collaborate successfully.

The Centre for Learning Success then provides ongoing workshops that are available to all UCW students covering key skills like effective presentations, academic reading, time management and befriending their challenge response.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES AND THE PEER2PEER PROGRAM

UCW's student body is rapidly growing and diversifying. Engaging students in informal and social events plays an important role in academic life. Not only does it help shape a student's experience, but it also fosters a sense of community and a culture of understanding and respect. Our Student Affairs department provides opportunities for students to participate in activities and events outside the classroom, coordinated and organized by Student Affairs staff and students from the Peer2Peer Program.

The Student Life Team holds different events both virtual and on-campus that provides an opportunity for students to engage with the UCW community.

Bi-weekly First Year Friday events are organized by Peer Leaders specifically for new students and include virtual games, or a chance to have a coffee and chat with other new students.

Interested students can visit the Student Affairs section in the MyUCW Student Portal for more information about UCW's Peer2Peer Program.

STUDENT GROUPS

At UCW, our students take pride in their leadership and clubs' development. Students can apply to have their student clubs, groups or organizations officially recognized as part of UCW Student Life by contacting Student Affairs.

UCW-recognized student groups are voluntary organizations that have "registered" or gained recognition from the Student Affairs Office. Group leaders can apply for recognition through Student Affairs. Student groups can include cultural groups, hobbies, advocacy, social justice and much more. We support students in formal and informal leadership positions through clubs, groups and organizations that are formed by the UCW community.

Taking part in Student Life opportunities as well as participating or leading a student group and advocating for students are great ways to develop a variety of power skills and competencies. It is also one of the best ways to get involved with the UCW community, as well as contributing to the community our students want to build.
