DIVIT TOKEN

- 2021 saw an unbelievable price surge of Binance Utility Token called BNB.

Lots of people were surprised but I wasn't.

WHY?

Because I saw it coming. Utility tokens price like BNB, APE etc rise when there is a volume of traders using them as trading pairs. Binance in 2021 had lots of users and listed lots of tokens.

That aside,

Another utility token called DIVIT TOKEN will be launched soon. DIVIT TOKEN is the utility token for ULTAINFINITY.

The project is already being accepted globally with community members in 100+ countries.

DIVIT TOKEN will be used to trade other tokens like slapa token, Utta token, synthetic slapa token and NFTs on this platform

This usage will automatically lead to a massive surge in its price currently projected to rise by 99,900% and even more.

ULTAINFINITY

- How to identify a secured exchange.

The hacking wallets on the crypto wallet are increasingly elaborate. Every day crypto exchange loses $2.7million on average.

Why does this happen?

Crypto exchanges are not cyber security enterprises. They focus mainly on the financial marketplace

How to identify the secured exchange

- They have valid HTTPS certificates. HTTPS is an encrypted version of the HTTP protocol that prevents change and capturing of data you're sending to a web server

- o Secured password. A secured exchange doesn't allow weak passwords.
- o Two-factor authentication (2FA). A secure exchange offers multiple 2FA methods including software, SMS and hardware device.
- o Cold storage of user fund

One crypto exchange that I know has all the above in check is ULTAINFINITY EXCHANGE.

So if you need a more secure exchange where you can store your crypto and sleep with no fear of your account being hacked, ULTAINFINITY is what you need.
