Why We Do It

Art and identity are intertwined. Since the beginning of time, we've added art to our spaces to tell our stories, preserve our histories, and inspire our futures. We want to give you a way to access art quickly and affordably. You can design a whole new room tonight with a little help from us. Curate your museum from the comfort of your home.

I paint flowers so they will not die. - Frida Kahlo.

Art doesn't resist change; it welcomes it. That's why it is so important for us to be fast and easily accessible. You can change your decor as much as you want, every day if you wish! Trends move fast, and you can easily stay on top of them with our help. It is the liveliest way to drastically change a room and improve upon it.

We're here to encourage you to fill your space with meaning. Images are everywhere, and we want to make it easy for you to curate the images you want in your life. Communicate with your walls. Use your space as your storyteller. Art is both personal and communal. We keep it close to ourselves while at the same time sharing it with the world. We believe that everyone can be a great art connoisseur. Art isn't solely for the elite; art is for the people.

Art washes away from the soul the dust of everyday life. - Pablo Picasso.

People contain multitudes, so why shouldn't our homes? Your home is a canvas for your story, and we offer art as a tool to tell it. We live for art, and we want you surrounded by it. Art can pull secrets from people, transform an emotional state, and resurrect memories. It is as essential in your home as the walls themselves. Their utility exists in the mental realm. Art may not hold the ceiling up, but it holds up the life of the room, the invisible force we share as a culture, as humans.
