HANDS ON HEART ENGAGED LEARNING

At Mizzou, we believe in the Missouri Method (our philosophy of learning by doing). As early as your freshman year, you'll have opportunities to work alongside professors in research labs, treat patients at one of the top hospitals in the state, or report for KOMU, our NBC-affiliated, student-staffed newsroom.

“ I've done undergraduate research, produced videos that have played in front of packed stadiums, and studied photogrammetry over 4000 miles away in the heart of Dublin, Ireland. ”

INVEST IN YOUR FUTURE

A college degree increases your potential earnings by over 1.2 million dollars throughout your career. College campuses serve as hubs for networking, enabling students to build valuable connections with mentors, peers and industry professionals.

“ I take pride in going here because I feel like I'm getting the most out of my college experience and that I'll be able to walk away with amazing real-life skills that I can't get anywhere else. Learning by doing. That's the Tiger way. ”

Rachel Henderson

Hometown: Atlanta, Georgia

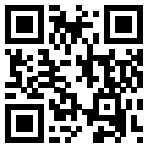

Major: Journalism

Minor: Sociology

WHEN EXPLORING COLLEGE, HERE ARE SOME WAYS TO PREPARE:

- Stay involved in high school, focus on grades, and get involved in extracurriculars. (More is not always better. Fully committing to just a couple is great!)
- Explore what you love doing and find degrees that match.
- Check high school GPA and ACT/SAT requirements for a variety of schools.
- Consider what you might like in a college or university, like the number of students, distance from home and town atmosphere.
- Talk with your family and your high school counselor about college and your plan for the next few years.
