

1873 Colt Single Action

The Colt Single Action Revolver is one of the most famous firearms in American history, many versions are still so some even attribute it to “settling the west.” You often see this weapon in vintage Hollywood western films. This 1873 Colt Single Action Revolver has a 7 ½ inch barrel, holds 6 rounds, a loading gate located in the rear, and an ejector rod for used rounds. The Colt Single Action pictured above was made by Cimarron Firearms and it has the symbols which represent the Buffalo Soldiers of the U.S. 10th Cavalry.
