

THE EVENING ATTRACTION: "OUT ON A TRIP"

Full disclosure: I love the Chicago scene. Garage scene? DIY scene? Wicker Park scene, Pilsen scene, whatever label you want to slap on, I'm there and enrolled.

Doubtless, the great state of Chicago currently reigns as one of the best cities for music in America.

The Evening Attraction is yet another fantastic band from the city, with their new single "Out On A Trip" channeling some impressive old school FM vibes. We're talking classic, heavy on the hooks rock-n-roll. Note the supremely catchy "You Keep Me Hanging On" keyboards, incredible vocals, and the stellar production work by Twin Peak's Colin Croom. Straight up, I've had this stuck in my head for the last 48 hours. Roll down the windows and crank this real loud on LSD--errrr--Lake Shore Drive. I can't wait to hear more from these guys, check out their road trip photos below and be sure to listen to "Out on a Trip" HERE.
