It was mid-July, so I and some friends decided to visit LA and enjoy our short holiday on the west coast. We always visit LA during the weekend and spend a great time at amazing places, nightclubs, and shopping malls.

We decided to stay at the recently renovated Oceana Santa Monica luxury resort. The moment we entered this luxury resort, we were just overwhelmed by its opulence and magnificence. Once we got checked into our signature ocean-view suite, the room staff showed us all the luxury amenities arranged for us and took great care of our every need.

Luxury That Will Have You Mesmerized.

The newly redesigned 70 suite beachside retreat offers world-class facilities and authentic connections that give you a feeling of a beach house club with an authentic beach house mansion. An exquisite Californian escape with warm hospitality that makes you relax and refresh just like home.

The resort is located in a residential neighborhood, a secluded and serene spot made for tourists who wish to relax and rejuvenate after a long journey. The resorts serve every guest with personal attentiveness and luxurious services, the best of California has to offer. The resort has a gym, yoga center, and facilities for strength training, pilates, and spa treatment center.

Enjoying Our Stay At The Resort

After the resort tour we retreated to our suite, I rested on the couch on the balcony enjoying the view of the sea and enjoying the cocktails that we were offered, I just could not think of leaving this beautiful place, for it was everything that I love to be treated with, just like home. In the evening after chilling out with friends on the beach and watching the sunset. We enjoyed our time in the pool and sat beside the bar to have some shots at the hideaway hotel. We tasted some of the delicious cuisines from the boutique hotel.

The next day we visited the penmar golf course down the road. Spending the day at the golf course just made our day. We also spend some time at the popular Santa Monica pier just a mile away from the retreat.

We had no plans on the list to leave soon for we were now spoiled by the luxuries and lavishness thrown at us by the resort. Saying goodbye was the hardest thing for us at Oceana Santa Monica, I just could not let this place out of my mind. I wish I could stay here forever and never say bye after having the best holiday experience ever.
