The Footprints looks beyond the traditional early child care and training methods to create a holistic environment of fun, education, growth, and learning for your little ones. Counted amongst the best pre-schools in India, Footprints is not just a play school but the right parenting partner for your kids.

Why Playschools Are Important

Playschools play a critical role in developing the individual personalities of little kids and giving them an edge in social, pre-academics, and general life skills. A good playschool near you would also help in the development of a child's emotional and intellectual sides. The right playschool for kids provides opportunities that enable the little ones to learn in interesting and engaging ways. Going to the best playschool is important as it helps kids in building a positive association with inquisitive learning in the form of fun activities and guided play.

Going to play schools also helps the kids in dealing with separation anxiety before enrolling in the regular schooling system and building language & motor skills early. The playschool experience also builds a sense of community and kinship in kids at a young age that helps them navigate life in the future. Topping the list of best pre schools in India is Footprints, which with its unique model will teach your kids all of this and more.

Why choose Footprints

With a presence in over fourteen cities in India, Footprints is the best playschool in India that you could ask for your kids. Established by IIT-IIM alumni, Footprints follows the US-based preschool curriculum called HighScope that it has introduced in the country. This makes Footprints one of the top play schools nursery for kids.

This scientifically developed playschool curriculum allows mentors at Footprints to support the holistic growth of your kids. It is based on contemporary findings on Human Brain Development and is proven to produce children with significantly better health, relationship-building skills, and employment skills.

You should choose Footprints as the playschool facilities include freshly cooked meals, transportation for pick & drop, weekend childcare, and monthly reports. All Footprints premises are CCTV-enabled and send the live feed of classrooms directly to the parents' phones. The playschool prepares daily and monthly reports for a child's performance, helping the parents to better understand their natural skills and likings. It helps the parents to provide better facilities and opportunities to their kids in domains they could naturally excel in.
