

Journalism CV

Louisa Cheatley

0448 334 471

DOB 08/03/1997

louisacheatley@outlook.com

SHOWREEL - https://youtu.be/Hmf_w1jdV4o

WEBSITE - <https://www.louisacheatley.com/>

EDUCATION

University

Bachelor of Communication (Journalism)

RMIT University, Melbourne

Graduation: October, 2018

School

The Geelong College

Completed VCE in 2014

ATAR: 96.20

WORK EXPERIENCE

Current employment

Channel 7 News Melbourne

Assistant Chief of Staff

2018

Channel 7 News Melbourne

Intern

ABC 7.30 Report

Intern

RMIT Catalyst Magazine

News reporter and contributing writer

2016

SYN 1700

Co-host on the live television program which aired on Channel 31

SYN Panorama

Reporter and presenter on SYN's flagship radio program

The Australia Times
Writer

2016 – present

Krock 95.5
Promotions team member

2014 – present

Pulse Television Geelong
Reporter and presenter

ABOUT ME

Since I can remember, I've wanted to be a television news journalist.

I took a gap year after completing my VCE studies, and started volunteering at Pulse Television in Geelong. Over four years, I refined my skills in reporting, presenting, interviewing, editing and securing talent. It taught me many invaluable skills, but above all else, affirmed my immense passion and love for journalism.

After interning at 7 News in Melbourne, I was offered ongoing work as an assistant to the Chief of Staff. My role includes preparing a story list for the nightly bulletin, chasing leads, liaising with reporters and producers, contacting talent and following developing stories. As part of my role, I'm also able to shadow reporters out on the road and record piece to cameras, write scripts and edit packages, in order to develop my reporting skills.

As well as being naturally competent in front of camera, I have excellent writing skills and interviewing habits. I have the confidence, drive and intellect to chase leads and develop stories.

My inherent interest and curiosity in every day life motivates me to find new leads on developing stories. I thrive in fast-paced, high intensity work environments, and my genuine passion for telling people's stories motivates me to work hard, network and embrace opportunities.

REFERENCES

Available upon request.