NEW ROMANTIQUE

One of the most decadent looks making the rounds this season is this beautiful romantic theme. Infused with soft rose and amethyst tones as well as luxuriant fabrics, this look works perfectly in the living room or bedroom.

With French boudoir inspirations, there is a suggestion of old school glamour to this look. Cut glass perfume bottles, scalloped edges and gilded mirrors are all perfect for adding a touch of romanticism to your space. If you prefer your palette a little more muted, try incorporating soft dove greys into the look.

SLOW LIVING

This look celebrates a slower pace of life with chic laid-back styling and artisan designs that are created with care. Natural materials form the basis of this look with aged leather, woven wicker and untreated wooden furnishings working together to create a scheme that encourages you to relax and take the time to enjoy your surroundings.

Prints and patterns from around the globe in simple palettes complete this look and add interest to the simplicity of the styling without detracting from the craftsmanship.

MODERN PASTELS

Pastel shades may put you in mind of cutesy colours but this year pastels have had a grown up make-over with chalky finishes and grey undertones cutting through the sweetness.

Soft powder pink is still the hue that many are gravitating towards, with it appearing across accessories, furnishings and lighting too. Dip your toe into the trend with two or three accent pieces or go the whole hog by layering pale duck egg blue, blush and lemon yellow on a simple backdrop.

FOR EXTRA STYLE POINTS...

Keep your pastels from feeling too sugary sweet with pale grey accents and sleek Scandic shapes.

BURNT ORANGE

As the weather cools and we retreat back into our homes for the winter months, many of us seek to update our spaces to ensure they are as warm and inviting as possible. One of this season's hero colours is a rich, earthy burnt orange and it will bring a serious dose of cosiness, as well as a burst of on-trend vibrancy, without having to overhaul your home.

Soft furnishings with luxurious touchy-feely textures work particularly well with burnt orange so look to velvets, soft cottons and densely piled wool to bring both comfort and style inside this winter.

What better way to beat the winter blues than to bring a little slice of the rainforest indoors? Combining bold tones with animal motifs, playful textures and intricate patterns, this safari inspired style is not for those who prefer to keep their interiors neutral with its eclectic mix of materials and tones.

Layer your look with oversized plants, an abundance of accessories and maybe even take inspiration from your new season wardrobe with a touch of animal print.
