

BRIDGING THE TWO WORLDS OF BUSINESS AND EDUCATION WITH

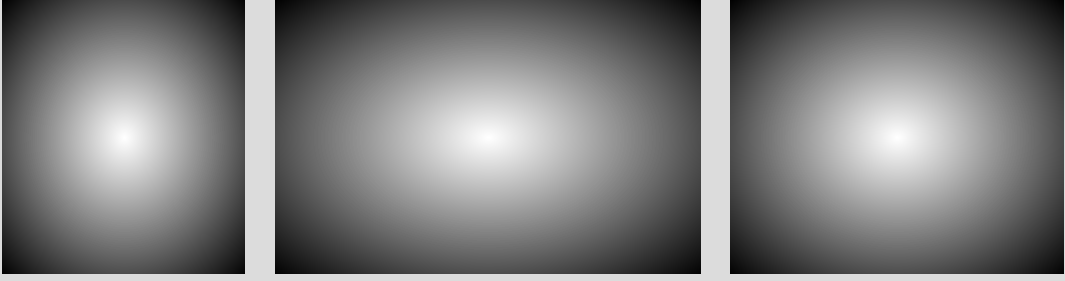

KIMBERLY HOWE FERGUSON

Hi! I'm Kimberly Howe Ferguson. I'm an academic, a wife and a mother, an active acquisitional entrepreneur, but most importantly, I'm a mountain climber.

My approach to entrepreneurship can seem a little untraditional at first glance, but I assure you, there's a method to the madness. Alongside spreading knowledge to others about business through my role as director of the Entrepreneurship Center, I'm primarily passionate about acquiring small businesses and women owning assets. My only requirement when looking at businesses is that your grandma should understand it; if your grandma likes it, I'm into it! Meaning that it's simple to understand, and will always be around and needed no matter the trends or how the industry changes. If you feel like you've got something I might like, let's connect!

More About Me!

Current Owned Businesses:

“If your GRANDMA likes it,
i’m into it!”

— Kimberly Howe
Ferguson

Want to reach out?
Contact Me

Follow Me in f
@