INCREASED PRESSURE TO MODERNIZE IN THE FACE OF COMPETITION

For financial services firms, moving to the cloud is a matter of urgency. The need to deploy modern technologies that can deliver enhanced customer experiences and stay ahead of fierce competition is crucial to survival.

This is no small feat for firms. To collect and process data from multiple sources, and to modernize legacy infrastructures will mean remodeling business operations and cultivating new skills, while at the same time keeping a close eye on costs.

Migrating your business to the cloud may be the obvious solution. But that doesn't mean that the path to get there is simple...

NO EXPERIENCE? NO PROBLEM!

Migration means moving applications, infrastructure, and data from existing data centers to a public or hybrid-cloud environment. This then provides the foundation to upgrade applications and enables the use of cloud-native technologies to modernize the business.

Firms are held back from achieving this by a lack of access to cloud expertise. Not to mention, apps that are hard to migrate and fears that managing the cloud in-house will make it prohibitive to their budgets.

ECI can provide you with the skills and processes for all cloud operations, covering core services, data, workplaces, and more. Providing you with the assurance that a move to a cloud-based infrastructure is robust, reliable, and secure.
