

WeBuyCars company culture

Driving success in every sense

At WeBuyCars we pride ourselves on our success and growth throughout the past 21 years. As we are driving an average of more than 11 000 cars, that we buy and sell on a monthly basis in 2022, it is no secret that we consider ourselves as a key player in the South African second-hand vehicle industry.

We have 13 branches nationwide and about 2 300 employees, boasting with an average of 300 buyers to assist customers wherever they are. Our customers can sell, trade in and purchase vehicles on our website and we also offer additional value-added services like warranty cover, in-house financing solutions and more.

Our commitment to growing a functional organisational culture has contributed to our success and victories when faced with adversity. As a company we have created an innovative work environment that prioritises investing in our employees and cultivating a journey that stretches deeper than revenue. The latter mentioned often results in meaningful contributions from both the employer and our employees.

Change and growth are constant topics in the WeBuyCars workplace, and with that a supportive and competitive environment is cultivated in all aspects of the company. At WeBuyCars we pride ourselves in aligning our business model with our core values, and as a result the workplace culture amplifies the quality and longevity of our employees' careers.

The rapid growth of the company has attracted many job seekers and with multiple positions becoming available as the business expands, WeBuyCars offers clear, exciting and stable job opportunities to our prospective employees.

Core values of the company

- We give back. WeBuyCars is committed to giving back and uplifting our communities.
- Tomorrow is not just another day at WeBuyCars. We motivate our employees to be task driven within their actions.
- We lead change by inspiring creative and rapid innovation through quality leadership and teamwork.
- We serve people. WeBuyCars is committed to providing quality service and value to our customers and use trust as the driving force of our customer relationships.
- We keep it simple.

Work at WeBuyCars

If you are interested in starting a career at WeBuyCars, you can view and apply for current vacancies on our career page or reach out to us with your CV at careers@webuycars.co.za.