

Excellence. Access. Impact.

ASU is a New American University, a reconceptualization of 21st century higher education measured not by whom we exclude but rather by whom we include.

ASU Online

Learn more at asuonline.asu.edu

At ASU Online, we believe that everyone deserves a high-quality education and have designed an innovative and technology-enabled digital learning experience with student success in mind. We provide individuals returning to school or just beginning their educational career the chance to complete their degree online from anywhere, anytime. ASU Online offers more than 100 degree programs delivered by the same award-winning faculty teaching on campus.

Students receive the exact same content as students attending classes in-person but through technology-enhanced delivery. With six start dates per year, our online programs are effective and flexible, offering students access to ASU's academic, research, and career resources. Online students also receive personalized success coaching, guiding them from enrollment to graduation.

Global Freshman Academy

Learn more at gfa.asu.edu

Arizona State University has created Global Freshman Academy, a first of its kind enterprise offering college-level courses for academic credit. Global Freshman Academy courses are hosted on the edX platform, the nonprofit online learning destination founded by Harvard and MIT. Through Global Freshman Academy, we're changing the higher education paradigm by significantly reducing the financial risk students undertake when they enroll in a college-level course.

Global Freshman Academy is a low-risk, low-cost, high-quality academic opportunity with courses designed to give individuals the opportunity to demonstrate college readiness and the ability to succeed while also developing problem solving and critical thinking — necessary skills in today's global workforce. Students can choose to purchase courses for university credit after they've successfully passed the class, providing an alternative entry into the first year of higher education for all qualified students at their pace and price.

Starbucks College Achievement Plan

Learn more at starbucks.asu.edu

Arizona State University and Starbucks have developed the Starbucks College Achievement Plan to provide education benefits to Starbucks partners (employees).

This first-of-its-kind partnership creates an opportunity for all eligible U.S. partners to earn their bachelor's degree through ASU's top-ranked online degree program. The plan's offerings for students include:

- Full tuition coverage all four years
- Access to cutting-edge educational technology
- A wide array of program choices; there are currently more than 50 undergraduate degree programs available to partners
- Six start dates per year, allowing students to begin their degree program sooner
- Courses developed and taught by the same world-class faculty teaching on ASU's campuses
- Individualized guidance; each Starbucks student is assigned an enrollment counselor, a financial-aid adviser, an academic adviser, and a success coach

me3

Learn more at asu.edu/me3

Arizona State University is leveraging gaming technology with a new online application called me3. me3 presents users with a series of 60 choices between pairs of images to learn more about their personality and match them with potential college major and degree programs. This no-cost application guides students as they prepare for college and their future.

