Career Objective

I am looking for any way I can produce my own work, collaborate with others to help with theirs, or contribute my writing to a project that I believe in in a way that will allow me to support myself through my writing.

I'd love to be a part of a team with like minds to create something to be proud of. My genres of focus are normally comedy and I also enjoy writing sci-fi/cerebral based short films, although I'm always open to new ideas and stepping out of my comfort zone.

First and foremost, I would ultimately like to be able to produce my own comedy sitcom with a group of people who have the similar sensibilities, but I'd also love to write and produce short/feature length films and continue to do other various forms of creative writing.
