Keeping our waters healthy on Halloween Day

Volunteers and Environmentalists clean the White River Yacht Club

Who: Volunteers and Environmentalists will be there to clean. The mayor of Indianapolis has been invited. Spokesperson of this event is John Fishburn, president of the group, Cleaning up the White River.

What: Cleaning and picking up trash at the White River

When: This will be taking place on October 31 from 10am-3pm. A news conference will be held at 11am.

Where: This cleanup is happening at 75th street to Westfield Blvd. in Broad Ripple.

Why: The river has been polluted with trash and is in need of a good cleanup.

Background: Many people leave trash at the river making it very polluted, so in efforts to clean the East fork there is expected to be 300 volunteers and environmentalists in boats. Dumpsters will be set up.
