

Post-vSimulation Reflection of Interprofessional Communication During Difficult Situation

Thinking about the interprofessional teams that you work within:

- 1) What strategies will you use to manage conflict within the team?
Strategies that I will use to manage conflict within the team are situation monitoring and situation awareness. By scanning and assessing the situation to know what's happening conflict can be avoided and/or managed before it accelerates. Another similar way to do this is through cross-monitoring. By using a harm-reduction strategy this can help avoid conflict that would arise through mistakes or oversights. If conflict arises I would plan to manage this through actively listening, using disarming statements and finding a common ground.
- 2) Which areas of your own communication within the team would you like to focus on developing?
I would like to focus on developing my communication within the team by practising handover using the "I pass the baton" method. I have never used this method but it seems to include all pertinent information and be effective in transitions in care.
