H2: Candles

If you're looking for a low-stress and no-fuss gift that everyone will enjoy, candles are always a great option. Candles are perfect for creating a warm and cozy ambiance. H2: Homemade Latkes

A Hanukkah party isn't complete without latkes. Latkes are a delicious, traditional Jewish dish. Think of it as a fried and savory potato pancake. These are fairly simple to make-- you'll need potatoes, seasoning, oil, a food processor, and a fryer. While you can guarantee that there will be plenty of latkes at the party, anyone who celebrates Hanukkah will tell you that you can never have too many.

H2: Wine and Decanter

Another guaranteed crowd pleaser-- wine! When you come to any party with a bottle of wine, you'll be appreciated by every guest. Just to be safe, check with the hosts ahead of time and ask if they keep kosher or is anyone attending is kosher. If so, there are plenty of delicious kosher wines to choose from. Throw in a little something extra for your hosts by bringing them a beautiful decanter and set of glasses.

H2: Gourmet Food Baskets

You can never go wrong with a gourmet food basket. Whether you bring it to share with the other guests or exclusively for your hosts, everyone will enjoy snacking on a variety of delicious treats. Again, ask your hosts if they or any of their guests keep kosher. If they do, a basket full of kosher chocolate treats should do the trick.

H2: Toys for the Kids

It's rare for party guests to bring gifts for the kids. If you know that there'll be a good number of children attending, bring them a little something that they'll enjoy. You can bring dreidels, Hanukkah-themed teddy bears, and much more. Or if you're well-acquainted with the hosts and their family, you can give their children fun Hanukkah gifts that they'll enjoy this holiday season.
