

THE UPDATE

COMING OF AGE

WHAT'S NEW?

THE 1975 RETURN FOR A NEW ERA. WE EXPECT IT TO BE GOLDEN

The boys are back. After the success of their 2016 platinum-selling second album, I Like It When You Sleep, For You Are So Beautiful Yet So Unaware Of It, The 1975 return with a new, self-proclaimed era of music. This new age from the synth-pop-rock provocateurs, which they've named 'Music For Cars', consists of two planned albums. Frontman Matty Healy says the upcoming albums will be the third instalment in a trilogy of work, which chart his feelings on maturity and success. The first album of the two, A Brief Enquiry Into Online Relationships, is frank, self-aware and reflective, all while retaining the band's signature euphoric sound. Landing this October, recent singles Give Yourself A Try and Love It If We Made It both feature on its tracklist. The foursome have been in LA working on the second record, already titled Notes On A Conditional Form, which will be released in May next year.

Do not miss this

This year's BBC Radio 1Xtra Live has a line-up more sizzling than ever. Chance the Rapper, Pusha T and the Mercury Music Award-nominated Jorja Smith are just some of the acts performing at The O2 for the one-off show on Sat 22 Sep. Be there or be forever gutted you missed it. Tickets are available at o2.co.uk now.

Words: Charley Ross Photograph: Jack Caldwell