SKIATHOS IN STYLE

PW's Colette explores the beautiful Greek 'Mamma Mia' island for a little R&R

THERE'S NOTHING MORE RELAXING THAN SPENDING THE DAY ON A BOAT

Surely the island where one of my favourite films, Mamma Mia, is set couldn't be as rustically gorgeous and tropical as it looks on screen? Wrong. Skiathos is one of the most heavenly places I've ever seen – turquoise waters, pine forests and rocky beaches decorate the small Greek island, making it a honeymoon haven.

Unlike Meryl Streep, we stayed at the lavish Kassandra Bay Suites and Spa, a luxurious resort with views of the Mediterranean Sea. Our room was perfect, with white décor and a private jacuzzi on the balcony which, after a long day of travelling, was a godsend (along with a welcome glass of wine).

If, after the stress of wedding planning, you want to lie back and relax, then you can do so poolside or on the private beach (complete with cocktail service!). For true indulgence, book in for a couple's massage at the on-site spa. Prefer a more active holiday?

There are loads of fun excursions available – we tried our hand at snorkelling. Yes ok, we may have only spent 10 minutes in the sea before swimming up to the deserted beach but, hey... why not?

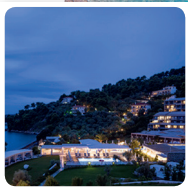

We decided to explore some more of the island's beautiful bays and coves on a local boat tour: A day spent jumping into the ocean, swimming into caves and soaking up the sun with a delicious lunch and a glass of prosecco melted away all our modern-life woes.

For foodie couples that want to try more than just Greek salads, then the buffet-style dining at the resort will allow you to taste all of what Greece has to offer: There was an array of delicious, fresh produce available at every meal – the food on this trip was definitely a highlight for us.

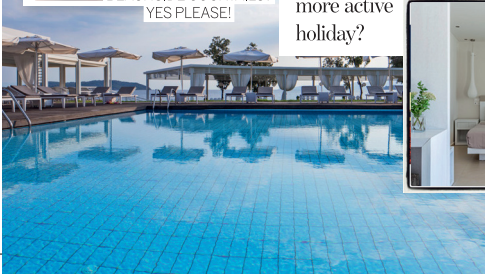

You're guaranteed to have some amazing, romantic experiences while staying at Kassandra Bay. Just switch off, download your fave Abba album and enjoy your Honey Honey moon... get it?!
