Help Your Air Conditioner Run Better (Or Replace It While You Can!)

We've already had a few really hot days, and more are definitely on the way. Before summer is officially here, we thought we'd share a few tips to help keep your home cool. There's more you can do than just crank up the AC!

- Switch your ceiling fans to spin counterclockwise. That pushes cool air down and helps rooms feel cooler without lowering the temperature. It's a quick change that can make a noticeable difference, especially in bedrooms and living areas.
- Open your windows early in the morning or later in the evening. Letting in cooler air at the right times can help reset your home before the heat builds up during the day. Just be sure to close everything up once it starts warming back up.
- Keep blinds and curtains closed during the hottest part of the day. Direct sunlight can heat up a room real fast, especially on south- and west-facing windows, even if your AC is running. Blocking that sun takes some of the strain off your system.

For your air conditioner, regular filter changes every 1–3 months and a maintenance visit before summer can make a big difference in how your AC functions and how your home feels. If your system has been struggling or showing its age, now is a good time to start thinking about a replacement. Just remember, Doc Dancer always has ways to help you save!
