Everything You Need to Know for Fall + How to Save Big on a New Furnace

The nights and mornings are starting to get a little colder, and we're catching those first glimpses of fall. We want you to actually enjoy the season ahead instead of worrying about a furnace that won't turn on or pipes that freeze up. That's why at Doc Dancer Plumbing, Heating, A/C & Generators, we recommend a few simple fall home prep steps:

1. Check your furnace filter. Swap it out if it's dirty, since a clogged filter reduces airflow and strains the system, potentially leading to breakdowns. You can always buy filters online through our website!
2. Turn your furnace on before you need it. A faint burning smell the first time is normal, but if it lingers, or you hear loud knocking or banging noises, don't wait around to get it looked at.
3. Schedule a furnace tune-up in the next month or so. It's the easiest way to make sure your furnace is ready for winter and to catch anything that could leave you without heat later on.
4. Turn off and drain your outdoor water lines. Disconnect your hoses and insulate any exposed pipes, since leaving water in outdoor lines through a hard freeze can lead to damage and even burst pipes.
5. Have a plan for power outages. Winter storms can knock your power out for hours or days, so it may be worth exploring a backup generator before you actually need one.

Big job or small, we're here to help you cross off every box.

Take Advantage of Zero-Interest Rebates While You Still Can

If your furnace is older or needing more and more repairs, we encourage you to consider replacing it now while the weather's still warmer. We're currently running an End-of-Summer Sale to help our customers save. You can lock in pricing before fall and stack your savings with 5-year, zero-interest Cool Cash rebates. Beat the cold, not your budget!

Be Prepared for Whatever's Next

There's more where this came from. On our blog, you'll find full maintenance checklists, guidance on repair versus replacement decisions, and cost guides to help you budget for what's next. Check it out to stay a step ahead all season long!
