How We Take Care Of Your Cooling System

Your home should be the place where you escape the heat, not where you're sweating through another day with a struggling AC. You shouldn't have to deal with long wait times, inflated prices, or repairs that don't last. You deserve honest service and real solutions. That's what we do! Here's how to get started with our Pflugerville AC company.

1

CALL OR MESSAGE US

Call us or reach out through our website to let us know what's going on. Whether you need AC repair, maintenance, installation, or replacement, our friendly team will listen, answer your questions, and schedule a time that works for you.

2

MEET WITH YOUR TECHNICIAN

A professional technician will arrive at your home in uniform and a marked vehicle, ready to talk through your specific needs. After evaluating your system, you'll receive upfront pricing for the AC service along with a clear plan for what happens next.

3

ENJOY A COOL, COMFORTABLE HOME

From seasonal maintenance to system replacements and emergency HVAC services, we make sure your system is working the way it should. Our team cleans up the area, answers any questions you have, and is always here if you need help down the road.

Air Conditioners

Services for Air Conditioners

Summers here regularly bring long stretches of 95–100° weather, and sometimes even hotter. Central air conditioners are the most popular type of cooling system to handle that kind of heat. But when your AC is running day after day, month after month, problems can show up quickly. Having a dependable AC contractor makes all the difference. As experienced cooling contractors, we can keep your Central Texas home comfortable.

SCHEDULE SERVICE

Air Conditioning Repair

If your system is blowing warm air, making strange noises, or struggling to keep the house cool, it's time to schedule an air conditioner repair. Issues like frozen coils, low refrigerant, or worn parts are common during hot Texas summers. Our technicians find the problem quickly and complete the air conditioning repair needed to get your AC back ASAP.

AC Repair →

Air Conditioning Installation

If you're ready for air conditioning installation, we can schedule a visit and provide a free estimate right away. Our technicians evaluate your home's layout, cooling needs, and equipment sizing to determine the best system and SEER rating for the space. With our carefully planned AC installation, your new system is sized correctly and set up to cool your home as efficiently as possible.

AC Installation →

Air Conditioning Maintenance

Routine air conditioning maintenance keeps your system ready for the long cooling season ahead. During your AC tune-up, we perform thorough inspections, clean coils, check refrigerant levels, and test system performance. These visits help prevent breakdowns and keep your AC system running smoothly.

AC Maintenance →

Air Conditioning Replacement

An aging system can drive up energy bills and struggle to keep the house cool. That's when air conditioning replacement becomes the smarter long-term choice. Our AC replacement services guide you through the options and install the right system for your home.

AC Replacement →

Emergency AC Repair

When your AC stops working in the middle of a hot day, waiting isn't an option. Our team provides 24/7 live answering, so you can find relief fast. Our fast response for urgent repairs helps restore your home's comfort and prevent further damage to the system.

Emergency AC Repair →

Heat Pumps

Services for Heat Pumps

Heat pumps have become a popular choice in Central Texas because they're extremely energy efficient and simplify your HVAC system setup. Instead of burning fuel to create heat, they simply move heat in or out of the home, which allows one system to both heat and cool your space. Our technicians provide full heat pump services for systems already in place, as well as for homeowners interested in making the switch.

SCHEDULE SERVICE

Heat Pump Repair

If your heat pump starts blowing warm air, runs nonstop, or trips the breaker, something isn't right. Our technicians track down issues like refrigerant leaks, worn capacitors, sensor failures, and airflow problems that affect cooling. An expert heat pump repair will fix the problem and get your system back to normal.

Heat Pump Repair →

Heat Pump Installation

Heat pumps use both an indoor air handler and an outdoor unit connected to your home's duct system to cool the space. When planning a heat pump installation, we look closely at your cooling needs, including your home's size, layout, and insulation. A new HVAC system from us improves your home's energy efficiency and can help lower your monthly energy bills.

Heat Pump Installation →

Heat Pump Maintenance

Your heat pump depends on proper airflow, clean coils, and balanced refrigerant to cool your home properly. During heat pump maintenance, we perform routine maintenance that includes checking refrigerant levels, cleaning indoor and outdoor coils, inspecting electrical components, and testing airflow through the system. Seasonal tune-ups help your heat pump keep up with the heat without overworking.

Heat Pump Maintenance →

Heat Pump Replacement

If your current system runs constantly, struggles to keep rooms cool, or needs frequent repairs, it may be time for heat pump replacement. Newer models are designed with even better efficiency and better temperature control. Replacing an aging unit can make your home more comfortable while reducing energy use.

Mini Splits

Services for Mini Splits

Ductless mini splits are a type of HVAC system that cool and heat your home without using ducts. They're a popular choice for older homes, renovated spaces, bonus rooms, and areas that need independent temperature control. Instead of relying on ductwork, ductless mini split air conditioners deliver AC directly into the room through compact indoor units. This makes them efficient and easy to add to many types of homes. Our ductless mini split services include professional installation, repairs, and routine maintenance.

SCHEDULE SERVICE

Mini Split Repair

Mini splits are dependable, but they can still run into problems after heavy use. If your unit isn't cooling evenly or shuts off unexpectedly, you may need a ductless mini split repair. Our team provides expert cooling service to identify the issue and restore proper operation.

Mini Split Repair →

Mini Split Installation

A new mini split can solve comfort problems in areas like garages, additions, or upstairs rooms. Our ductless mini split installation process includes selecting the right AC unit and installing it so airflow reaches the entire space. This gives you precise temperature control without ductwork.

Mini Split Installation →

Mini Split Maintenance

Dust buildup and worn components can affect mini split performance over time. During ductless mini split maintenance, we inspect the system, clean filters and coils, and verify operation. This helps reduce the risk of unexpected breakdowns and keeps your indoor comfort consistent.

Mini Split Maintenance →

Mini Split Replacement

When a unit needs frequent repairs or can't maintain the temperature anymore, a ductless mini split replacement may be the better option. Newer systems are quieter, more efficient, and better at maintaining consistent cooling. Our technicians help you upgrade to equipment that fits the space and performs perfectly.
