

Like gemstones plucked from the earth, the oversize Tom Dixon copper pendants have a raw, almost molten quality. The solid oak dining table by MaximaHouse features one-of-a-kind knots and imperfections. Such organic shapes pair well with the palette, underscoring its natural roots and grounding an otherwise high-wattage look.

Product Name, Brand Name 0000000 $1,000 | Product Name, Brand Name 0000000 $1,000 | Product Name, Brand Name 0000000 $1,000 | Product Name, Brand Name 0000000 $1,000 | Product Name, Brand Name 0000000 $1,000 | Product Name, Brand Name 0000000 $1,000

PRO APPROVED

Why Textiles Designer Johanna Howard Loves the Palette

Johanna specializes in alpaca knits – she knows warm and cozy when she sees it.

01.

It's inviting. "Because sunset-inspired hues are rooted in nature, they give you an undeniable sense of home and comfort."

02.

It's seasonal – but a less expected take on pumpkin- and foliage-inspired tones.

03.

It plays well with other colors. "These colors have brown and beige undertones, so they work like a neutral."