

The STAND OUTS

House of Hackney

The British brand makes maximalism effortless with wallpapers in wondrously wild prints that perk up any space – and every style. Here, a few attention-grabbing facts and designs we bet you didn’t see coming.

WOW YOUR WALLS

A FAMILY affair

Husband and wife Javvy M. Royle and Frieda Gormley began the brand at their home in London’s Hackney borough. (The duo remains at the House’s helm.)

SHOP WALLPAPER

REBELS WITH cause

House of Hackney is a certified B Corp, meaning it meets the highest social and environmental standards – and uses the business as a force for good.

SHOP WALLPAPER

ROOTED IN nature

Punky petals and climbing vines are printed on sustainably sourced, recyclable paper. Psst – thirty-five square meters of forest are purchased and protected with every roll sold.

SHOP WALLPAPER

SECRET(IVE) gardens

The British landscape – and artists like William Morris – inspire fantastical prints with curious details. (Can you spot the forest queen camouflaged in this painterly scene?)

SHOP WALLPAPER