

This office enlists a round oak dining table by Woodbridge Furniture in lieu of a desk, while the pencil holder is a porcelain planter by littala turned on its end. Maximizing approachability, abstract art by Chelsea Art Gallery and JBASS Grand Gallery leans casually against a window or is perched upon a freestanding, eye-level display. These clean-lined pieces look perfectly at home beside a chow-foot credenza by Bungalow 5 and a geometric cowhide rug by Art Hide, proving that mid-century modern plays nicely with other styles.
