

HP and Sehi Can Help You Implement Smarter Print Strategies

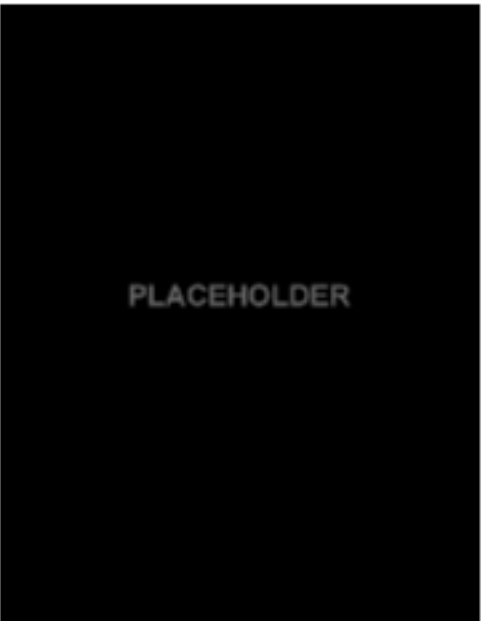

READ THE CHECKLIST

Hello {{lead.First Name:default=Colleague}},

As your organization adjusts to the new normal of remote and hybrid work, it's important to consider all aspects of the productivity and security tools your employees depend on.

One business area that's frequently overlooked is print services and hardware — which is worrying, because cybercriminals know that print networks can be particularly vulnerable, especially in a remote or hybrid work environment.

Fortunately, HP and Sehi are here to make sure your print devices are hardened against modern cyberthreats. Our checklist can help you determine if managed print hardware solutions from HP and Sehi are right for you by asking essential questions relating to:

- Connectivity and business workflow
- Security risks and compliance
- Managed services and print devices

Read the checklist to see how HP and Sehi can help you build a more secure remote print network without impacting employee performance or business compliance.

Maximize Your Secure Print Hardware Services Potential With Sehi

At Sehi Computer Products, an HP Amplify Power Services partner, we understand government agencies face numerous challenges that are becoming more and more complex. Aging populations. Regulatory compliance. Limited resources and budget constraints.
