PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Communications Manager, Energy & Technical Services McKinstry | Nov 2021 - Aug 2023

With a storytelling lens, built and oversaw a national external and internal marketing-communications program, developing and implementing strategies that align client- and employee-directed messaging with line of business and enterprise priorities.

- In partnership with communications and market strategy leadership, built new team foundation, objectives, processes, and structure. Led monthly team-building exercises to create connections to each other and to organizational strategy.
- Created and implemented communications strategy, plans, storytelling frameworks, and editorial calendars for national, regional, and internal efforts and in support of various sales teams.
- Produced consistent and robust content to celebrate client successes, amplify mission, expertise and service offerings, strengthen regional narratives, position thought leaders, and elevate social impact and philanthropy achievements.
- Developed an internal brand champion program to connect team members to the organizational mission and empower them to amplify their voice. Program included a corporate “story book” to reinforce vision and voice and inspire storytelling, a thought leadership support component, and integration of program elements into various training programs.
- Engaged with corporate leaders on organizational messaging and strategy and collaborated with several c-suite members on crafting personas and thought leadership efforts, defining their voice, priorities, and content planning and execution.
- Served as liaison and strategist with the company’s external public relations agency to pursue earned media, respond to media requests, and fulfill content obligations with niche media outlets.
- Owned in-house media relations efforts, researching outlets and reporters, crafting press releases and pitching stories, and fulfilling editorial commitments. Increased coverage, especially in local and niche media outlets.
- Coached and mentored direct reports and team members and guided the work of specialists like graphic designers.
- Completed 10-part video series and complementary digital content featuring c-suite leadership to amplify expertise in response to national legislation that had a once-in-a-lifetime positive impact on our industry and clients. Planned, scripted, scheduled, and produced videos in collaboration with contract videographer.
