

The Professor Kelly

Your voice ...
EMPOWERED
through science.

It's hard to find the right vocal coach

Does this sound familiar?

- Too many "warm ups", too few results
- Your voice teacher has a different idea of how your voice "should" sound
- Your great sounds feel "accidental"
- That "accidental greatness" fosters imposter syndrome and some fear, so you can't fully enjoy your audience
- You've got a good sound, but it feels unreliable in front of an audience
- You've got musical talent, but you still need that "signature sound" to make it a career

What if you could get faster, more dependable results using vocal science?

WHAT PEOPLE ARE SAYING ...

"Not only does Kelly know vocal structure and how the voice works, she knows what sounds good and how to bring that out in students.

On top of vocal teaching, Kelly is excellent at teaching lyric crafting and songwriting. She has helped improve and form many of my own songs which I sing today!

Kelly has been a huge part of my music development".

Elijah Merrell
Singer-songwriter and Music Producer, Merrell Music

"I credit Kelly as changing my life by helping me to realize, 'hey maybe I can really do this!' Especially by helping me access new areas of my voice and new tones that I never knew I had in me."

(That's me on the far left!)

Megan Sola-Guinto
Singer and Songwriter,
Sola Music

"Kelly's professionalism and expertise is unparalleled in the arena of vocal instruction. She quickly decoded the cause of a vocal challenge I had been struggling with for some time and provided a viable solution within 20 minutes of entering her home studio. Knowledgeable, Musical, Patient, kind, Skilled and incredibly effective are only a few of the attributes Kelly possesses as an instructor of voice. Whenever I'm in need for a quick vocal tune-up, Kelly is among the very few at the top of my list to check in with".
